INCREASING TURBULENCE

Anti Foreign Demonstrations Have Occurred in City of Pekin.

FOREIGN TROOPS DUE TODAY

The Emperor Has Issued an Appeal to the Powers Against the Dowager Empress.

London, June 12, 3 a. m.—The last message out of Pekin to reach London left there yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, going by way of the Russian telegraph through Manchuria, the Tien Tsin line being cut. It is as follows:

"General Tung, a Mohammedan, extremely hostile to foreigners, arrived here this morning and had a long audience with Prince Tuan, father of the heir apparent, who is seemingly friendly to the Boxers. Prince Tuan has been appointed chief of the foreign office over Prince Ching, who is more friendly towards the foreigners.

"The dispatch of more marines was in response to a telegram from the ministers to the consuls at Tien Tsin for additional troops. Conveyances have left Pekin to meet the troops coming by the first train.

"The arrival of the empress dowager has rendered the city somewhat more quiet than it has been recently. The Protestants have erected a barricade before the building in which they have taken refuge and they have a small guard. The Catholics are concentrated north of the cathedral under the protection of a French guard of men who will hold out to the end.

"I am convinced that Pekin, especially the Tartar city, is safe."

At Tien Tsin the viceroy finally consented to furnish transportation for a relief force of 400 under an American commander. The partial restoration of [illegible] by tomorrow. More massacres of Christians are reported.

Shanghai, under today's date, reports that there has been street fighting in Pekin since early Sunday afternoon. The Russians are making large purchases of canned provisions at Shanghai and everything points to an outbreak of hostilities. All British missionaries will probably be ordered to return quickly to treaty ports."

The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, in a dispatch dated yesterday at 1:40 p. m., says:

"Reports from the Un Nan Fu district say that the French minister has telegraphed that a crisis is imminent and that he is advising all foreigners to evacuate Yung Nan."

All the telegrams indicate that the situation has not in the least improved. On the contrary the disorders have spread from the neighborhood of Pekin to the capital itself, which is growing turbulent in anti-foreign demonstrations. In addition to the burning of the Pekin club, the secretary of the Belgian legation has been roughly handled in the streets. Hostile crowds continue to demonstrate against the legations. Two thousand international troops are approaching the city and the advance guard is due to arrive today (Tuesday).

The United States, according to dispatches from Copenhagen, have given "hearty adhesion" to the scheme for an European demonstration. The Russian minister at Pekin, who also acts as the envoy of Denmark, is credited with having sent a dispatch to the Danish foreign office to the effect that a demonstration has been planned, under the leadership of England and Russia, in which all the great powers and several of the smaller will take part. The [illegible] as there are enough on the spot, but they are to be asked to delegate the right to hoist their flags with the great powers in order that a demonstration may be made, or a battle fought under the flags of all Europe. Japan and the United States have been informed and agree to the arrangement.

ADMIRAL KEMPFF HAS ASKED REINFORCEMENTS

Washington, June 11.—The navy department has received the following cablegram from Admiral Kempff:

"Tong Ku, June 11.—Secretary of the Navy:

"In case all communication with Tein Tsin cut, not able to go alone; if other nations go will join to relieve Americans pending instructions. Situation serious; battalion of marines from Manila has been urgently requested. Answer. "Kempff."

Upon receipt of the above Secretary Long sent the following cablegram to Admiral Remey at Manila:

"Navy Department, Washington, June 11.—Remey, Manila:

"Send by Solace immediately all dispatch to Kempff one hundred marines, arranging if practicable that after landing Solace shall continue homeward voyage as previously ordered. "Long."

The Chinese crisis continues to be an absorbing topic at the foreign embassies and legations in Washington, but the prevailing sentiment is that it is confined to mob outbreaks and will not eventuate in a territorial dismemberment involving the various powers. It is pointed out that up to this time the foreign powers have stated most positively that their sole purpose is to restore order and protect their citizens and property, and while there has been some suspicion of an ulterior motive on the part of some of them, this has not taken form.

On the contrary all the official declarations have disavowed anything more than a restoration of order. The Spanish minister at Pekin is dean of the diplomatic corps there, but as Spain has practically no interest in China, Sir Claude MacDonald, who is second in point of service to the Spanish minister, will act as dean during this upheaval, the other ministers having interests to protect co-operating with him. That serious entanglements are not expected soon is indicated to some extent by the departure from this city of the foreign representatives.

The Russian ambassador, Count Cassini, has already gone; Ambassador Cambon of France will leave on the 20th for Europe and Lord Pauncefote is making arrangements to go to Newport for the summer on July 1.

At the same time it is felt that China is in such a foment that an international crisis beyond the mob uprisings confined to Chinese may be precipitated at any moment. The Chinese minister, Mr. Wu Ting-Fang, is naturally disturbed at the seriousness of the reports, but in the complete absence of official confirmation, he believes the reports are magnified and that the underlying causes of the attacks on the foreigners have not been given. A knowledge of this point, he feels, will permit a much better judgment of the situation.

In some foreign quarters it has been thought that the Chinese government would give some indication through its ministers abroad of its views on the landing of foreign troops and its ability unaided to cope with the situation, but not a word of this has been received here.

Secretary Long this afternoon stated that he had sent no direct answer to Admiral Kempff, nor was such an answer necessary in view of the subsequent cablegram to Admiral Remey at Manila.

The reinforcements in the shape of additional marines which will come to him from Manila in the course of a week would indicate the department's position sufficiently.

It will take the Solace a full week to make the trip, according to the estimate of the naval officers, for it is about 2,000 miles from Manila to Taku.

It is declared at the navy department that Admiral Kempff is not entirely dependent upon this marine force from Manila for reinforcements, for he was authorized last week to call upon the United States vessels at Shanghai, the Yorktown and the Castine, for more men if he needed them and it is suggested that the Oregon may also supply another force in addition to the 20 marines she has already sent to Admiral Kempff.

It is evident that the navy department approves all Admiral Kempff has done up to this point, at least, as is shown by the disinclination to hamper him by instructions.

Minister Conger was heard from again this morning. It is fortunate that, although telegraphic communication between the foreign forces at Taku and Tien Tsin, and foreign embassies and legations at Pekin is interrupted through the cutting of telegraph wires, there yet remains a channel of communication between the officials at Pekin and their home governments by overland wires to Shanghai and thence by cable. It also is possible through this round-about way for a connection to be maintained between the foreign diplomats and their naval commanders at Taku.

Minister Conger's telegram this morning was to the effect that the Pao-Ting foreign missionaries are safe up to the present; that the Chinese government has sent troops there and promises ample protection to the mission, though it is not thought that this protection will insure safety. According to Minister Conger, it is [illegible] at this moment to send any foreign forces from Pekin to Pao Ting Fu. Mr. Conger's doubt as to the permanence of the Chinese ability to protect the missions in line with his previous expressions of opinion indicating a belief in his mind that the few Chinese generals who are disposed to protect the foreigners are to be overcome by the element at the Chinese court which is favorable to the Boxers.

The attitude of the United States government respecting the Boxer troubles having been misrepresented in certain quarters, it can be stated authoritatively that up to this point not the first step has been taken toward sending any troops from General MacArthur's army in the Philippines to China. It was decided last week that none of the troops could be spared, even if wanted, and that none would be spared if they could be for such a purpose in the present aspect of the Chinese trouble.

THE EMPEROR THINKS HE SEES HIS OPPORTUNITY

London, June 12.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express, telegraphing yesterday, says:

Wong Tung Ho, Emperor Kwong Hsu's tutor and confidant, who was dismissed by the dowager empress after the coup d'etat in 1898, sends with the special sanction of the emperor and his party, including three viceroys, a message to the people of the west. It is in part as follows:

"His majesty is convinced, through amply trustworthy sources, that the loyal support of many scores of millions of the Chinese will be accorded to his proposals for putting an end to the state of anarchy brought about by the action of the empress Hsi Tsi.

"The government of China being virtually non-existent, the emperor proposes that the foreign powers, whose troops dominate the capital shall remove his imperial person from the palace in which his majesty is confined a prisoner, shall declare Empress Hsi Tsi and her present ministers to be usurpers and shall bring Emperor Kwong Hsu to Nankin, Wuchang or Shanghai, whichever the said foreign powers deem to be the most suitable location

RAIN IN INDIA.

London, June 11.—The viceroy of India, Lord Curzon, of Kedleston, has cabled to the secretary of state for India, Lord George Hamilton, announcing that a good rain has fallen in southern India. There have been scattered showers elsewhere and that the meteorological reporter forecasts a good but late monsoon.

The hot weather, however, still prevails and the famine relief situation has not altered. There are now about 5,820,000 persons receiving relief.

A BATTALION ANNIHILATED

British Sustained Severe Loss at Hands of "Marauding" Boers.

DANGER OF A SECOND RAID

Loss of Derbyshires In Killed, Wounded and Prisoners Was Between 600 and 700 Men.

London, June 12 (2:30 a. m.)—Fifty thousand British troops are within half a hundred miles of the marauding Boers north of Kroonstadt and they are expected, of course, to make short work of them. Nevertheless, outside of the war office telegrams, no one knows what is going on.

South of Kroonstadt there is a wide gap. The railway is only partially defended and, as General Kelly-Kenny has hurried all the available troops northward, the assumption is that there is danger of a second raid. The loss of the Derbyshires is estimated at from 600 to 700 men.

A Reuter dispatch from Maseru, dated June 11, 8:35 p. m., says:

"Fifteen hundred Boers surrendered to General Brabant today in the Ficksburg district."

Machadorp has been officially proclaimed the capital of the Transvaal. A Lourenzo Marques dispatch says the village has swollen into a small city, the majority of the inhabitants living in tents.

An official Boer telegram asserts that the British have been defeated with considerable loss at Donkerspoort in the southern extremity of the Free State or Orange River colony, ten miles from Norvals Point. It was thought that this district had been cleared of Boers and rebels long ago.

The Boers still cling to Laing's Nek but General Buller's forces are still working far around in that direction. [illegible] that prior to Wednesday he liberated 151 officers and 3,500 of the rank and file. The Boers consequently took off only 900.

Mr. Schreiner, the Cape premier, had eight supporters out of forty at a caucus called to consider the ministerial programme. J. X. Merriman, treasurer, and J. W. Sauer, commissioner of public works, have resigned from the cabinet, and Mr. Schreiner's own resignation is believed to be imminent although he may reconstruct the ministry with the aid of the opposition, the British members.

The cabinet situation is so interesting that Sir Alfred Milner will postpone his trip northward.

Food is still scarce at Mafeking, but the railway is nearly repaired. Seventy-two rebels have been arrested in the Vryburg and Mafeking districts. OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE LOSS OF THE BATTALION

London, June 11.—Lieutenant General Sir Frederick Forestier-Walker, in command of the lines of communication in South Africa, reports that in the disaster to the British troops June 7, at Roodeval, where the Boers cut Lord Roberts' line of communication, the Fourth battalion of the Derbyshire regiment were all killed, wounded or made prisoners, except six enlisted men. Two officers and sixteen men were killed and five officers and seventy-two men were wounded, many of them severely.

The Boers returned the wounded to the British. The officers killed were:

LIEUTENANT COLONEL BAIRD-DOUGLAS.

LIEUTENANT HAWLEY.

The wounded include Colonel Wilkinson and Lieutenant Blanchard of the Canadian infantry.

General Forester-Walker's dispatch in full is as follows:

"Cape Town, Sunday, June 10.—The following telegram has been received from Charles Knox:

"Kroonstad—The following casualties reported from Roodeval June 7, received from Stonham, commanding the Imperial Yeomanry hospital, dated Rhenoster river June 8, received here by flag of truce June 10:

"The Fourth battalion of the Derbyshire regiment (the Sherwood foresters) killed, Lieutenant Baird Douglas and Lieutenant Hawley, and fifteen of the rank and file; wounded, Colonel Wilkinson, Captain Bailey, Lieutenants Hall, Lawder and Blanchard, and 55 of the rank and file; the Shropshire light infantry, 1; Cape pioneer railroad regiment, 7; ammunition park royal marines and imperial telegraphs, 1 each, postoffice corps, 1.

"Stonham reports that many were severely wounded and the remaining of the Fourth Derbyshire and details of prisoners except six of the rank and file, are in his camp. All the wounded are in his camp lately occupied by the Fourth Derbyshire. Inquiries are be[illegible]."

It is inferred that the Boers captured over 500 men and as late as June 10 held positions cutting off the British forces north of Kroonstad from reinforcements.

A dispatch from General Forestier-Walker says General Methuen was fighting within ten miles of Heilbrun June 6, as follows:

"Cape Town, June 10, Sunday. General Kelly-Kenny reports from Bloemfontein this morning that Methuen, with the greater part of his division, was fighting early in the morning of June 5 ten miles south of Heilbron, where Colvile was reported to be with the Highland brigade. Methuen left Lindley June 5 with ample supplies for himself and Colville, leaving Paget to hold Lindley with a sufficient force and supplies.

"Kelly-Kenney has ordered Knox to [illegible] the enemy's strength to be exaggerated.

"All is quiet and there is no anxiety as regards the district to the south. Communications north of Kroonstad have been cut since June 6."

[illegible] Lord Roberts' communication with the outer world was accompanied by such a serious loss came like a bolt from a comparatively clear sky. In London until the news came it was thought that the destruction of the railroad was accomplished by Free Staters, who were avoiding rather than annihilating the British detachments stationed at the point attacked. Nor are General Forestier-Walker's vague statements regarding Methuen and the situation at Heilbron looked upon as reassuring. The Boers appear to be in sufficient strength to completely separate all the British forces north and south of a line stretching some fifty miles between Roodeval and Heilbron. Methuen's march upon the latter places seems somewhat in the nature of a movement for the relief of Colvile. The only British officer left at Roodeval appears to be the doctor in charge of the hospital, which is full of wounded.

What has happened to the troops immediately north of Roodeval is still a matter of conjecture.

All in all, to-day's dispatches reveal that the situation is far more serious than anyone imagined.

The ministerialist caucus at Cape Town has resulted unfavorably to Premier Schreiner, only ten supporting him, and Mr. Schreiner has given notice of his intention to resign. The question at issue is Mr. Schreiner's desire to introduce immediately bills punishing the colonial rebels and indemnifying the government for acts committed under martial law.

A Cape Town dispatch to the Times says:

"It is impossible to say whether Mr. Schreiner will manage to form a coalition ministry with the co-operation of Mr. Rose-Innes, and possibly even Gordon Sprigg, or whether Sir Alfred Milner will intrust the task to Sprigg."

There is no further word of General Buller's progress.

Reports from Maseru, Basutoland, June 9, says the Boers around Clifcksburg refuse to surrender and severe fighting is expected, though a dispatch of June 8, from Hamonia, which is only a few miles from Ficksburg, says the position in the southeast corner of the Orange River colony is unchanged; that General Rundle has received the Boer delegates sent to negotiate peace terms, and that the result of the negotiations is now known.

LOGAN REPORTS DEFEAT OF COLOMBIA FORCES

Washington, June 11.—The following dispatch has been received at the navy department:

"Colon, June 10.

Secretary of Navy, Washington.

"It is reported that an engagement has taken place, resulting in the defeat of the national forces yesterday. By the exchange of Panama national forces retreated, ammunition nearly exhausted. They have reinforced and ordered to renew attack. Loss in killed and wounded, five officers. Reports very conflicting. I shall remain here.

"Logan."

The cablegram was from Commander Logan of the cruiser Machias, which has been lying on the Gulf side of the Isthmus of Panama for the past month, protecting American interests. It is said at the navy department that Commander Logan would be prepared at a moment's notice to put a force of marines and sailors on a special train and rush them across the Panama railroad to Panama if their presence there should become necessary to safeguard the lives of Americans and American property.

The message received to-day was partly mangled. It is believed that the commander meant to say that it appeared from the reports of the exchanges at Panama that the government forces have been defeated. The latest reports from the eastern part of Colombia, however, represent the total defeat of the insurrection.

THE REBELLION IN THE BRITISH GOLD COAST

London, June 11. Colonel Willcocks, in command of the Ashanti relief expedition, cables from Prahsu, under date of June 9, as follows:

"Have just received a message from Colonel Carter at Kwaisi, reporting that he advanced June 6, effecting a junction with Captain Hall at Bekwai. He found the rebel forces strongly fortified at Dompoassi. The fight continued for a long time and the enemy were dislodged, but on account of the loss of seven European officers wounded and ninety other casualties, he was unable to advance and returned to Kwaisi.

"There is no news from Kumassi. Hall is at Esumeja and Bewkai, which is friendly.

"Kokofu and Adansi are in a state of rebellion. The [illegible] are probably joining the rebel forces."

The commandant at the base cables to the colonial office as follows:

"Cape Coast, June 9.—Following is the purport of a dispatch received from Captain Hall:

"Esumeja, May 24. Collected the forces at Esumeja, Ejinassi and Bekwai May 22. Considered it necessary to find out the strength of the rebel forces to the front and flank before advancing on Kumassi. The plan of the rebel forces was to hold our front at Ejumum and outflank us from Kokofu. A garrison was left behind at Ejinassi. The remainder of the forces was concentrated at Esumeja where we left fifty men and a Maxim. Told Kink at Bekwai to advance to Abadon as soon as he heard rifle fire or encountered serious opposition.

"Within half an hour met resistance in a Kokofu village, repulsed the natives and burned the village in their sight. The Kokofu main villages were then attacked. Eight thousand held them for half an hour. Was unable to advance but successfully withdrew.

"Lieutenant Edwards and six men were wounded. The enemy's loss was considerable. Decided to hold Esumeja and to keep communications open for news of the main body."

LEECH LAKE INDIANS

A "Messiah" Craze Has Caused Fear of Another Uprising at the Minnesota Agency.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 11.—Word was received in Minneapolis today that there was danger of another Indian uprising at Leech lake.

An Indian giving the name of Sway Tay Gonce appeared at the Leech Lake agency recently and announced that he was the Messiah. He said that all of his descendants, Indians and white men, who lived in houses were soon to be destroyed by a big cyclone, but all Indians who lived in tepees would be saved.

The man secured the confidence of many of the Indians, who had such faith in him that about 200 left the agency and went into camp on Squaw Point. The matter gradually grew so serious that Captain Mercer, the Indian agent, sent out and had Gway Tay Gonce arrested.

The other Indians remain on Squaw Point and are becoming ugly. They make many threats, and as there are no troops at the agency, trouble is feared.

I. T. U. OFFICERS

Official Count Gives Lynch for President 14,119 and Donnelly 9,606 Trustees of Home.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 11.—The official count of the ballots cast for officers of the International Typographical Union has been completed for the first half of the ticket. The count shows:

For president—S. B. Donnelly, New York, 9,606; James M. Lynch, Syracuse, 14,143.

First vice president—C. W. Hawks, of Chicago, 10,660; J. W. Hays, Minneapolis, [illegible]

Fourth vice president—T. J. Canary, New York, 10,019; C. B. Menaugh, St. Louis, 9,255.

Secretary-treasurer—J. W. Bramwood, Denver, 20,227.

Trustees Union Printers' Home—William Anderson, Nashville, 13,423; Daniel Black, Detroit, 11,511; John A. Churchill, Philadelphia, 8,828; E. W. Patton, Columbia, Wash., 9,840; S. T. Pfund, Hartford, 6,883; L. C. Shepard, Chicago, 9,076; R. L. Tate, Philadelphia, 6,510; J. W. White, Kansas City, 8,678; Bernard Wolf, 7,372.

The four receiving the highest votes for trustees are elected.

QUELLED BY NATIVES.

Serious Trouble Was Threatened in a Puerto Rico Prison.

San Juan de Puerto Rico, June 11.—Five hundred inmates of the penitentiary here mutinied today, refusing to take breakfast or work. They asserted that the food was not fit to eat and the leader struck the warden in the face.

The penitentiary is guarded by a detachment of twenty members of the Puerto Rico regiment and the jail authorities fearing that the convicts had planned a concerted movement to break jail called in the guard, whereupon the prisoners attempted to rush the troops, who fired three volleys at the wall or in the air. Three of the inmates were injured by splinters, though not seriously.

The military authorities then called out a company of regulars. This assistance, however, was not asked for by the civil authorities and the native company had quelled the disturbance before the regulars arrived.

WISCONSIN DEMOCRATS.

State Convention Will Meet at Milwaukee Today.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 11.—The Wisconsin Democrats in state convention in this city tomorrow will elect four delegates-at-large to the national convention at Kansas City and ratify the choice of ten district delegates to be chosen by the various district delegations, prior to the convening of the convention. Judge James H. McGillan, of Green Bay, will be the temporary chairman of the convention. Of the four delegates to be elected Milwaukee will be honored with one in the person of David S. Rose, mayor of the city. No forecast has been made of who the others will be. The chief interest centers in the contest of a national committeeman to succeed E. C. Wall. Mr. Wall is a candidate for re-election. Timothy R. Ryan, of Waukesha, is also a candidate. The Chicago platform will probably be endorsed and the delegates instructed for Bryan.

DEWEY AT GRAND RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 11.—One of the largest crowds of people ever assembled in Grand Rapids greeted Admiral and Mrs. Dewey as their special train rolled into the Union depot from Detroit this afternoon. The party went immediately to the Morton house, under the escort of Edwin F. Uhl, former ambassador to Germany.

The admiral and Mrs. Dewey later went for a drive through the suburbs of the city accompanied by Mayor Perry and Congressman Smith. In the evening they were the center of attraction at a public reception in the city hall.

To-morrow the admiral will review a monster pageant, the principal feature of which will be the gaily uniformed divisions of the Maccabbees, who are holding their state encampment here.

RIO JANEIRO PLAGUE.

Washington, June 11.—Surgeon General Wyman has received a cablegram from Dr. Havelburg, the representative of the service in Rio Janeiro, saying that there have been 106 cases there since May 6, and 31 deaths. Dr. Havelburg does not specify the epidemic to which he refers, but Dr. Wyman says he has no doubt but that it is the plague.

DID THEIR FULL DUTY

Consensus of Opinion Regarding Action of the St. Louis Posse.

MAYOR ISSUED PROCLAMATION

He Warns All Persons to Refrain from Adding to the Excitement—Statement by Governor Stephens.

St. Louis, June 11.—The Sabbath's scenes of disorder and bloodshed were followed today by comparative quiet throughout the city. Last night's riot was the all-absorbing topic, especially among the police force and the officers and men of the sheriff's posse comitatus. They discussed it in all its bearings, the opinion being expressed that the posse men had done their full duty and no more.

The strikers and their sympathizers, naturally, viewed the occurrence in a light diametrically opposite to that of the sheriff's posse, the officials of the former making the claim that the men were shot down in cold blood.

Cars were operated until midnight tonight on the following lines: Laclede avenue, Market street, Olive street, Washington avenue, Compton heights and Park avenue. Up to a late hour no reports of disorders had been received by the board of police.

The surveillance of the police department was not relaxed in the least as compared with the preceding days of the strike. If anything their efforts were redoubled in maintaining peace and order, as in some quarters it was feared the lawless element of the community might possibly take measures to even up yesterday's score when three striking employes were killed and nine persons injured by the posse. In the same degree the two regiments of the posse were on their mettle.

In answer to a letter directed by Chief of Police Campbell this evening to Mayor Zeigenhein, the following proclamation was issued by the latter:

"Whereas, During the pendency of the present railway strike and the crisis through which the city is now passing, it is of the utmost public importance that all excitement be suppressed and that no acts of any kind be done which may tend to produce or create excitement in public places, such as the assembling of [illegible] persons upon the streets, the discussion of the situation in boisterous language or the discharge of firearms or fireworks.

"Therefore, I, the undersigned, mayor of the city of St. Louis, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested by law, do hereby proclaim and direct that all persons in the city of St. Louis refrain from gathering in numbers on the public streets or in public places; that all persons, particularly women and children remain in doors as much as possible until the present situation is relieved; that jeering or abusive language or language calculated to provoke a breach of the peace, be not indulged in.

"And all persons are especially warned against the discharge within the city limits of firearms of any kind or description, and against the firing or exploding of bombs or torpedoes, firecrackers or any species of fireworks.

"All minors are warned to keep within doors during the next three days and parents are notified that all minors found out of doors between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise are subject to arrest and imprisonment under the provisions of section 2119 of the revised statutes of Missouri of 1895.

"Henry Zeigenheim, Mayor."

President Harry B. Hawes of the police board, said tonight that the mayor's proclamation would be rigidly enforced.

GOV. STEPHENS EXPLAINS HIS COURSE IN ST. LOUIS

Jefferson City, Mo., June 11.—Governor Stephens today gave out the following statement which he had wired to the New York World regarding the St. Louis strike:

"Replying to your telegram, just received, will say vigorous action has been taken by the state government [to] enforce respect for law in St. Louis and protect life and property. The Republican mayor, however, who is a candidate for re-nomination, not desiring to offend, positively refuses to co-operate with us, which lends encouragement to the lawless element and impedes our progress toward restoration of normal conditions. The president of the board of police commissioners writes me under date of the 7th inst. as follows:

"'Henry Zeigenheim, mayor of St. Louis, has persistently refused to attend the meetings of the police board, of which he is a member, or to give us assistance of any kind at this critical period; his honor, in spite of sundry requests, has persistently refused to assist the board in any way and it is believed that his failure to do so has worked injury to us in this crisis. Especially do I deplore the fact as president of the police board that he refused to issue a proper sort of proclamation to keep the peace and for the dispersing of mobs.'

"As governor, I have conscientiously and fearlessly done my duty as my judgment directed. I have requested that 2,500 urgency policemen be sworn in and that the sheriff summon a posse of 2,500 able bodied and law abiding citizens to serve under the direction of the police commissioners. It has not been deemed necessary up to this hour by the commissioners to order out the militia, the commissioners believing that they are equal to the emergency. There are only spasmodic outbreaks, which the police and deputy sheriffs have been able to manage. The stripping of [illegible] women [illegible] was done by three girls, between the ages of 14 and 16. A saloonkeeper was also arrested on suspicion of being implicated. It was not thought best to order out the militia [illegible]. The girls have been tried and sentenced to terms in the Industrial Home for Girls. Most of the newspapers in St. Louis endeavor to stand in with the lawless element, as well as with the better element and think it popular to withhold support from state officers and constantly criticize any act of the police authorities.

"A similar strike upon the street railways was ordered in Kansas City about the same time the St. Louis strike was ordered, but proved a failure because the mayor, the newspapers and the sheriff all co-operated with the police department.

"We have four regiments in Missouri, consisting altogether of about 2,500 men. The First regiment, with two hours notice, will be ready for duty. The other three regiments can be mobilized in St. Louis within ten hours. Camping sites have been selected in the city and details are arranged, and as soon as I am informed by the proper authorities that a tumult exists in the city and that a condition of lawlessness and disorder prevails, with which the civil authorities are unable to cope, the national guard will be called out to enforce the law and prevent further disorder and acts of violence without delay.

"Conditions are indeed bad enough, but exaggerated reports have reached the east. I feel the worst is over. It was demonstrated in St. Louis yesterday when four or five strikers were shot and killed, that our authorities mean business. I believe that law and order will soon be restored and the good name and dignity of St. Louis and the state of Missouri will be preserved. Ninety per cent of the good people indorse my every act since the strike was declared and oppose the calling out of the militia until St. Louis admits, even with her police force and unlimited number of deputy sheriffs, she cannot at this time take care of herself."

OHIO DEMOCRATS TALK OF BRYAN AND DEWEY

Columbus, O., June 11.—The Democratic state convention will be held here tomorrow. It was at one time proposed to hold the convention last week, while Admiral Dewey was here, but some of the subscribers to the Dewey celebration fund objected and the plan was abandoned. The Dewey decorations exterior and interior, however, still remain all over the city.

There is much talk about Bryan and Dewey being nominated at Kansas City.

John R. McLean has announced that he must sail for Europe with his family next Saturday and that he cannot attend the convention in Columbus this week. Mr. McLean does not expect to return in time to attend the Kansas City convention. He would be placed at the head of the Ohio delegation to Kansas City if he would give his consent, but he declines absolutely.

Those who propose the combination of Bryan and Dewey believe there is no doubt about the admiral accepting. There is some diversity of opinion as to whether this convention should take the initial step in indorsing Dewey as well as Bryan for the national ticket.

The officers to be nominated in tomorrow's convention are secretary of state, dairy and food commissioner, member of the board of public works and justice of the state supreme court. For each of these nominations there are several candidates.

Four delegates at large to Kansas City will also be selected. In this connection the names most frequently mentioned are those of ex-Congressman Tom L. Johnson, James Kilbourne, Congressman John B. Lentz, Judge A. W. Patrick, Frank M. Marriott, Herman Goesbeck, William S. Thomas and Judge E. J. Bladin.

The hottest contest for delegate at large is between Congressman Lentz and Colonel James Kilbourne, both of whom reside in Columbus.

CUBAN EVIL OF FALSITY AND FALSE ACCUSATIONS

Washington, June 11.—General Ludlow, formerly governor of Havana, has made a report to the war department denying the recently published statement, directly charging Brigade Surgeon Major Davis with having accepted bribes to influence his official action while acting as sanitary officer of the city of Havana. The general's opinion is shown by the following extracts from his report:

"The Cuban atmosphere as to the public service is one of lies and deceptions; accusations are many and proofs are few; but seldom can the actual facts be obtained and verified. People will say almost anything, but will refuse to sign a statement or be sworn to it.

"In particular are some of the newspapers void of verity or virtue. Most of them serve personal interests and depend for their income not on their legitimate sales as issues and advertising, but upon receipts from purchased [illegible] exposure. The evil of falsity and false accusations is widespread and profound and it will require a long time to eradicate it from the community in general.

"The American officers in Cuba have had all this to contend with and nothing but absolute openness of conduct and sincerity of purpose of speech and action can protect them from it. It would be a waste of time to try to hunt down the swarms of irresponsible statements perpetually in circulation and eagerly picked up from the streets and cafes by the employes of a sen[illegible] press."

CANON CITY

Special to the Gazette.

Canon City, June 11. Today Canon was in the hands of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and hundreds of visitors.

The local people were all stirring by 7:30 finishing minute details for the reception and comfort of their visitors.

Canon today celebrated on a large scale and entertained more guests than it has for several years and up till noon there was nothing happened to mar the day's festivities and every one was treated royally.

At 10:30 the first train pulled into the Rio Grande depot and was followed [illegible] were eleven coaches on the two trains which brought in about 700 Cripple Creek district people.

Immediately upon arrival the line of march was formed, headed by the Peabody military band, following which [illegible] the Royal Gorge Lodge No. [illegible] and the [illegible] Bell Lodge Degree of Honor. Then came the Cripple Creek Lodge No. [illegible] A. O. U. W. and the citizens of Canon and visitors from the district brought up the rear.

The band escorted them to the Workmen headquarters, where Mayor Frank F. Thomas and Dr. Moore delivered a short address of welcome after which the mayor turned over the keys of the city.

By previous arrangement with the business men the druggists and grocers of the city presented each visitor with a beautiful button hole boquet of Canon grown roses.

In less than two hours after the arrival of the guests every rig in the different liveries was taken and the guests were shown around the city, were driven out to the miles of orchards and parks. The [illegible] Sells lake were entertained in such a manner that they will long remember the occasion. The boats which have just been returned from Pueblo where they were undergoing repairs were launched and hundreds took advantage of them while others spent the time in dancing and swinging. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served at the grounds.

Sports of the Day

At 11:15 a. m. the boys handicap half mile bicycle race was called [illegible]. There were six contestants. The winners in this race were Maurice Clancy who came in on third order and scored first time, the prize being $4.50, and Karl Chamberlain, who won the $5.00 prize for first place.

At 1 o'clock occurred the 1½ mile bicycle race. It was started from Fourth street down Main to Four Mile creek and return, after which it was run the second time to complete the [illegible]. There were eight entries in this race in which Frank Bon [illegible] in on first time, which was 47 minutes and 5 seconds, prize $7.50. McCulley won first place, prize $10. In this race Arthur Ross [illegible] the first heat ran against a box on the street and was thrown from his wheel and was considerably bruised about the hands and knees.

At [illegible] o'clock all visitors and local people who cared to go were escorted through the penitentiary under the [illegible] committee. About 700 took advantage of the opportunity.

A baseball game between the home and Cripple Creek teams was played in front of the penitentiary. The game was not played through, but the score stood 18 to 23 in favor of Cripple Creek.

From [illegible] o'clock the Royal Gorge Lodge served ice cream, cake and strawberries to the visiting members and their families, after which an entertainment was held for the brotherhood. Speeches were made by prominent members.

At the Schaeffer hall a big ball given under the auspices of the Workmen was largely attended and most of the time the hall was thronged. At the [illegible] was given a musical and literary entertainment by Prof. Geo. W. Dils, the famous violinist. He was assisted by local talent and one or two from Chicago. At the Sells lake a big dance was given which had a large attendance. The visitors left at an early hour in the morning with an expression of entire satisfaction and the feeling that Canon deserved great credit for the manner in which the citizens entertained their visitors.

for the new capital of the Chinese empire, under the new conditions.

It is proposed by his majesty and his advisers that the [illegible] should declare a joint protectorate and undertake the task of governing the country through his majesty.

The measure [illegible] that the protectorate should [illegible] reform [illegible] abolish the so-called armies, establish gendarmeries under foreign officers, take control of the customs, posts and telegraphs and work them through Chinese officials, establish a uniform currency [illegible] freedom of religion.

Weng Tung Ho predicts a peaceful acceptance of such a regime and goes on to say:

"China is ripe for the change of tide which the reactionaries vainly seek to stem. If it should be on the other hand that the foreign powers seriously contemplate the dismemberment of the Chinese empire they have before them the huge task of facing [illegible] million [illegible] although lacking training and who make but contemptible soldiers [illegible] boundless powers of passive resistance, and would be able to wear out the patience of any European rulers seeking to govern them without regard to the prejudices of the oldest civilization.

"The conquest and division of China would be possible with 100,000 troops, but to retain the government would require 1,000,000 soldiers and centuries of work. The task would end with the most unhappy results for both conquered and conqueror.

"His majesty and his advisers beg America and Japan to pause before resorting to dismemberment, which should be deferred at least until the [illegible] to restore the happiness of this great division of the human race have proved abortive.

"If the people are assured that the powers are guarding and protecting his majesty and do not intend to swallow the country piecemeal they and the soldiers will return unquestionably to the allegiance from which the empress diverted them."

[illegible] Throws off the Mask.

The Pekin correspondent of the Times, telegraphing yesterday, says:

"Changes have been made in the Tsung Li Yamen. The Chinese has been [illegible] Manchus rigidly conservative have been appointed. Prince Ching, the only member with a knowledge of foreign affairs, has been succeeded by Prince Tuan, a powerful supporter of the Boxers brotherhood.

The Times, commenting upon the reorganization of the Tsung Li Yamen, considers its significance unmistakable and says:

"It means that the empress [illegible] the mask and has resolved to stake everything on her anti-foreign policy. Prince Tuan is a creature of the empress who is known to be one of the chief patrons of the Boxers and a representative of the most reactionary party in China. That she is a determined and headstrong woman is not to be disputed. She has so far enjoyed immunity which has encouraged those qualities and combined with her ignorance of the forces she is defying and with the malign influence of her entourage, her self-fulness has induced her to offer a direct challenge to the foreign powers. The [illegible] one they cannot decline to take up and they must act together as indeed they are doing.

"If the empress is to have her way the position of no foreign power in China will be worth a month's purchase and western civilization will disappear from the country altogether."

WOMEN'S GOLF

In Preliminary Round Miss Luth Underhill Defeated Miss Shearson, 114 to 115

New York, June 11.—The first annual tournament for the championship of the Women's Metropolitan Golf association was begun today on the course of the Morris County Golf club.

The conditions called for the usual preliminary round at eighteen holes medal play, the first sixteen to qualify for the championship cup and the second sixteen for the consolation cup. Miss Beatrix Hoyt, the three-times champion, was defeated by Miss Maud K. Wetmore, 10 to 103. Miss Ruth Underhill, the present champion, defeated Miss Shearson 114 to 115.

THE NEWS OF CRIPPLE CREEK

Fourth of July Committee Held Another Meeting.

IMPORTANT MINING SUITS

Smith and Butler Claim $57,000 for Securing Anstie as Lessee of Hoosier. The Triumph Trouble is Over.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, July 11.—The Fourth of July committee had a meeting tonight to further complete arrangements for the three days' carnival. The vacant ground [illegible] of the city hall and west of the high school building was selected as the place for the miners' drilling contest. Secretary Berry was instructed to correspond with manufacturers of [illegible] drills with the object in view of having a machine drilling contest.

Ed Boyce, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who intends to be here on July 4, will be invited to deliver an address on that day. The secretary was [illegible] to [illegible] invitations to the presidents of the different miners unions in the district to accompany President Boyce in the grand parade.

The matter of taking lemonade and other stands was referred to a committee consisting of Messrs. Berry, Bunt and Sumner.

A Remarkable Suit.

In the district court the case of John W. Smith and W. E. Butler against the Grafton Gold Mining company was on trial today. The plaintiffs sue for a compensation of $57,000. They were employed by the defendant company to secure a lease for the Hoosier mine. They secured H. J. Anstie to take the lease and claim that amount as compensation for their labor. Y. H. Miller and George Q. Richmond are attorneys for the plaintiffs. [illegible] Hodgers of Denver represents the defendant.

Ewing D. Tankersley began suit today in the district court against the Damon Gold Mining company, the Consolidated Gold Mines company and D. Abbott. The suit involves a lease on the Harwood and Diamond lode mining claim in which the plaintiff claims an interest.

The plaintiff asks judgment that the defendant shall account to him for and on account of his respective shares in the profit of all ores mined and sold from the two claims since December 10 [illegible]. He also asks for a decree adjudging him as owner of his respective share in the lead.

[illegible] George Denker et al. in which he asks that two-thirds to a one-quarter interest in the Lulu lode mining claim, given to George Deniker and M. M. Van Fleet and M. M. Van Fleet to the C. O. D. Mining company be set aside and that Van Fleet and the C. O. D. Mining company be adjudged to hold the same in [illegible].

The executive committee of the State Federation of Labor will hold a meeting [illegible] this city in Miners Union hall. The [illegible] will return next Saturday.

Seeming Marvels

Tonight in the Grand Opera house Dr. [illegible], performer, some seemingly miraculous cures on the afflicted of the city in the presence of fully 250 people. A number of persons, some of whom have been ill for years after brief treatment [illegible] that they could [illegible]. [illegible] Watson, who appeared on the stage with crutches, being afflicted with rheumatism, received treatment at the hands of the doctor and in less than ten minutes disposed of his crutches which the doctor destroyed. Tomorrow night a free lecture will be given by Dr. Finney at the opera house, when he promises to perform similar acts.

Triumph Trouble Settled

The difficulty between Charles Arkins, the manager of the Winslow Leasing company, and the thirty miners employed in the Triumph mine was adjusted this evening. The miners received their wages due them and went back to work.

Miss Howard, recently of New York city, has been secured by the First Baptist church as leading soprano and soloist. She will take the place of Mrs. Martin, wife of the pastor, who will sever her connection with the congregation the first of next month.

Y. H. Miller has removed his family from the Lutt Penrose block to his new residence, 212 East Carr avenue. He will move his office there also within a few days.

AUSTRIANS ARRESTED

Two Miners Held on Charge of Stealing Ore From the Revenue Mine at Ouray

Special to the Gazette.

Ouray, June 11.—Two Austrian miners, John Cassagranda and brother, were arrested Saturday night about 11 o'clock while en route to the city from the Revenue about four miles south of the city on the charge of having stolen ore in their possession and brought down and lodged in the county jail. They had two sacks of high grade ores in their possession.

The foreman of the Camp Bird has have been purloined lately and dispatched the regular guard, C. H. Clay, and assistant up the road about midnight and upon their meeting these men with two sacks they examined the contents and found the ore as above stated.

It turned out to be ore from the Revenue instead of the Camp Bird. The preliminary hearing of the men will be held before Justice Humphrey tomorrow. The two men were miners employed at the Revenue.

Going Around World to Aid the Children

Miss Columbia, a charming little [illegible] fascinates all her traveling companions, ascended Pikes Peak yesterday morning. Another attractive gift of the young lady is her diminutive stature. Being but thirty-three inches tall, she is naturally the center of much interest [illegible] over the world. Nellie Bly's reputation as a globe trotter bids fair to fade like the last glimmer of a halo that has been before the remarkable achievements of this midget who is circumnavigating the world with her sole companion, an immense log book, in which embellished stories of her daily travels and experiences are recorded.

Miss Columbia's father is a Boston manufacturer who has the utmost confidence in her ability to travel alone even in foreign lands. For reasons that will be explained later, the name of Miss Columbia has been adopted. In foreign lands Miss Columbia's beauty and abbreviated proportions will serve as her protector. Everybody takes an interest in her, particularly the church people and promoters of charitable ventures, chiefly because her mission is to provide for and make happy the friendless children. She arrived in Colorado Springs early yesterday morning and was taken in charge by John Griffith, [illegible] of the Cog road, who had previously been informed the little lady would ascend the peak yesterday. Mr. Griffith's obesity formed a striking contrast to the doll like form of his companion as he assisted her into the crowded car and bade her farewell as the Cog train slowly steamed out of the Manitou depot. The crowd was at once interested and every one gave Miss Columbia some attention. During the trip to the summit she stood up in a seat thoroughly enjoying the grandeur of the scenery, the like of which she says she has never seen before in all her travels. On the summit she was equally enthused. Big gentle hands lifted her from the coach and assisted her through the [illegible] house from whence she took in 50,000 square miles of the grandest scenery on earth or in the heavens as far as man knows. Then she looked through the big telescope from the observatory, swinging her view around and taking in hundreds and hundreds of miles in every direction.

It will be an interesting story for Boston young folks especially, but to every one who reads her log book, when the story of Miss Columbia's trip to Pikes Peak is read. It is interesting to everyone and fortunately for her and her [illegible] and of beneficiaries there could be no better time selected to take the trip than now. When Miss Columbia completes her trip around the world her log book will be in several volumes and the little trunk in which she and the book will travel will give place to a much larger one if not several.

Does she travel in a trunk?

Why yes, Miss Columbia is a big wax doll that is going around the world under the auspices of the International Doll collection, which has headquarters at Boston and intends selling her with her log book or giving interesting entertainments after she has completed the circle and returns to Boston. She left there January [illegible] last. All of the proceeds will be devoted to the care of [illegible]. Miss Columbia, [illegible] four years old, has taken over 600 prizes in doll shows and all in the interest of the unfortunate children. She was photographed on the peak, and the doll collection organization whose methods are not explained in the directions contained in Miss Columbia's trunk estimates the proceeds of her return engagement to Boston at $35,000, a very nice sum for such a commendable cause. Superintendent Sells started Miss Columbia on her way to Salt Lake last night, where she will visit Saltair beach, the Temple and other points of interest before going to San Francisco, where she will take a steamer for the far East.

Departure of the High School Travel Club

The Colorado Springs High School Travel club left the city yesterday via the Colorado & Southern for Europe. The party leaving Colorado Springs consists of eighteen persons, but a few others who left for the east at various times within the last week or two will join the club and proceed on the trip abroad. The Colorado & Southern, Union Pacific and C. & N. W. roads are used between Colorado Springs and Chicago. The trip from there to New York will be via the Michigan Central and on Saturday morning the Hamburg-American liner Palatia will sail from New York with the party for Cherbourg.

The travel club was organized several months ago by Mr. E. R. Clark, and the trip which was begun yesterday is the consummation of his plan. The party will spend a couple of weeks at the Paris exposition and from there will make a tour of the main points of interest in France, Germany, England and Scotland, returning to the United States in September.

The club consists of the following persons: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Humphrey, Misses Mabel and Bessie Carter, Florence Hastings, Nelli Remick, Mary McAllister, Myrna Langley, Ernestine Ross, Mrs. Fanny Aiken Tucker, Mrs. Cora E. Hudson, Mrs. Jones of Pueblo, Messrs. T. L. Lingle, Carl Plumb, Charles Durkee, R. Ashby and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Curtis.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES AT COLORADO COLLEGE

Yesterday was class day with the Seniors at Colorado college and the unanimous opinion of the students who have seen previous class days at Colorado college was that the class of 1900 [illegible]. The programme was a thoroughly interesting one and was heard by a large number of people not students at the college. It took [illegible].

Programme

Miss Kitely as class president made the opening address which was a dissertation upon the merits of the class in a general way. It was replete with bright sayings and threw the entire audience and class into the proper spirit for the [illegible] of the exercises.

Mr. R. M. McClintock read the history of the class and it proved thoroughly entertaining. He was followed by Vice President Parsons, who told some bits of history which Mr. McClintock could hardly have been expected to tell.

W. C. Browning read the class poem and F. S. Caldwell made the class presentation which was a sum of money to be used in carving a memorial design on one of the rough-hewn tablets in Perkins Fine Arts exterior wall beneath the second story windows. The class song, written by Eva Conn May, called forth great enthusiasm.

J. Arthur Bailey made the oration incidental to the planting of the class ivy with the spade which this year's class stole last year and prevented last year's class from using. Judson L. Cross responded for the juniors and the ivy song by R. F. Walker was sung.

GILMORE-HILLHOUSE

A wedding in which the young people of Colorado Springs will be particularly interested will occur this evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. R. Duncan, who is a sister of the bride. It will be the marriage of Mr. N. L. Gilmore [illegible] and Miss Jennie Hillhouse, who has been a [illegible] host of friends in her capacity as an instructor of dancing with Mrs. Whitlock.

There is probably not a young lady in the city who enjoys a wider acquaintance or is held in higher esteem among the young people and the children of the city than Miss Hillhouse.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. W. H. W. Boyle of the First Presbyterian church.

MEAD IS CAPTAIN OF NEXT YEAR'S BALL TEAM

At the Club Coffee House (Colo last evening the college baseball team held its annual business meeting and banquet, the latter being complimentary from Mr. W. C. Jones. Those present included the members of the team, Professor L. A. E. Ahlers, who is president of the athletic association, and Mr. R. W. Hemenway.

A sumptuous supper was enjoyed by the base ball men and was followed by the election of a captain which resulted in the choice of Mead, who has been this year's second baseman.

Professor Ahlers announced that owing to the multiplicity of duties he would be compelled to resign at this morning's meeting of the athletic association from the position of president. The members of the team then passed a resolution of thanks for his efforts in his capacity and passed another resolution unanimously calling upon Professor Florian Cajori to accept the position. The athletic association meets this morning at 8:30.

IN JUSTICE COURTS

In Justice Wing's court yesterday a money demand suit entitled S. C. Morrison vs. Charles Hancock was filed. The plaintiff asks for $7.70 which alleges is due him as commission for selling cattle for the defendant. The case was set for June 18.

The forcible entry detainer case of Adams vs. Mitchell was tried. Judgment was given the plaintiff by default.

In Justice Ruby's court yesterday three cases were disposed of.

The case of J. F. Estill vs. C. V. De Raterville and wife was heard. The plaintiff asked judgment for $50 which was due him as physician's fee and costs of the suit amounting to $37.80. Judgment was given for the whole amount.

The case of the People vs. E. P. Massey was continued until June 16.

The case of Biggs vs. Gump was brought up but was continued until June [illegible].

IN POLICE COURT

Yesterday was the blue ribbon day of the year with Police Magistrate Owen. During the day he collected from fines and costs of cases $77.75, which is considered as a record breaker.

What came near proving a clear case of gambling developed yesterday morning in police court when [illegible] and Burney, two colored men, were tried on charges of disturbance.

The case grew out of trouble which occurred Sunday evening between the two. [illegible] of the Midland block and he has a room there which according to witnesses, is used for gambling purposes. During the last administration Burney was appointed a special policeman, which office he held until yesterday. On Sunday afternoon Denny called at Burney's room in the Midland block and asked admittance which was refused him. Burney claims that he was drunk when he came to call on him and he would not allow him to come inside. A short time afterwards the two men met on Tejon street near McCurdy's shoe store. After passing several words they both decided to settle their troubles and they went into the alley to fight it out. The amusing thing is that Burney forgot that he was a special policeman or [illegible] kings excuse until he could whip his man. Denny drew a large key from his pocket and Burney believing that he had a razor drew his revolver. The courage of both men then failed them and they "backed up." They parted and each went his way.

They soon met again however and this time Burney happened to remember that he was a special policeman and walking up to Denny dealt him a blow over the head and placed him under arrest. He succeeded in taking his prisoner to the police headquarters. When Captain McNew heard their stories he placed both the officer and his prisoner under arrest.

Yesterday morning when their hearing was held, Denny testified that there had been gambling in Burney's room. Two other witnesses stated that they had gambled in Burney's room. Burney denied the charge and he had witnesses to prove that there had been no [illegible] place.

Chief Henry decided to give himself the benefit of a doubt and he immediately went to Burney's room and searched it. There he found dice, chips and other gambling paraphernalia which he took back with him for safe keeping. Burney told Chief Henry that the paraphernalia had been left in the room by another man and that he had not made use of it.

As the result of a trial on the charge of disturbance Burney was fined $10 and costs amounting in all to $31.00 and Denny was fined $25 and costs. Bureny paid his fine and Denny was committed.

Both Chief Henry and Judge Owen state that Burney could scarcely be found guilty of a charge of gambling and that it would mean an extra expense to carry the case to the county court. They claim that the evidence given in the disturbance case could not be used to any advantage in a gambling case.

A man by the name of Robert Kinney was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Gaines for riding on the sidewalk on North Tejon street. He appeared in police court and was fined $5 and costs which he willingly paid.

Ed Walsh and Jacob Schroeder who were arrested Sunday afternoon for creating a disturbance in Schofield's restaurant on Huerfano street appeared in police court yesterday morning. Walsh was fined $7 and costs and Schroeder was fined $11 and costs. Both men paid their fines and were released.

PROGRESS OF THE STARCH CAMPAIGN

WILL BARTLETT
WALTER JACKSON
GEORGE McKAY

Yesterday afternoon was the best half day that has yet been recorded in the starch campaign for the new building fund of the Young Men's Christian association. The boys are working like Trojans in their efforts to dispose of the starch and are bringing in good money.

The three high places are held by the above boys this morning. A number of others are very close competitors, however, and the place winners can be expected to change considerably unless the leaders do extremely good work.

Dr. Bartlett was high man in yesterday's sales. He gave one of the above boys $5.00 for a package of starch.

You Never Know the Moment when This Information May Prove of Infinite Value

It is worth considerable to any citizen of Colorado Springs to know the value and use of a medicine for if there is no occasion to employ it, in the meantime, frail humanity is subjected to so many influences and unforeseen contingencies that the wisest are totally unable to gauge the future. Know then, that Doan's Ointment will cure any case of hemorrhoids commonly known as the piles, or any disease of the cuticle or skin, generally termed eczema.

Mr. E. E. Griswold of 316 E. Huerfano street, says: "I had occasion to use Doan's Ointment. Before [illegible] Smith-Wilson Drug Co.'s for it I had used everything that heretofore came to my notice had been treated by doctors, but the trouble was not even checked, let alone cured—Doan's Ointment did as promised. It is worth many times its cost."

Doan's Ointment for sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

COTTAGE CONTEST

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sandidge, Colorado City.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Miller, Danville Mines.

Mr. and Mrs. George McMillan, Altman.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. West, Colorado Springs.

The above named young people are contestants for the Gazette summer cottage and its contents, which are offered as a prize for the most popular young married couple in El Paso or Teller counties. They may or may not have visited the location of the house. At any rate they know where Broadmoor is and where the Cheyenne canons are and have concluded that a summer cottage worth $2,000 and a complete set of furniture for the same from Fairley Brothers and a $500 Crown piano from the Hext Music company is worth having and worth working for.

Nominations may be made until July 1, and it is expected that there will be a large number of additional ones. Cripple Creek, Colorado City, the Danville Mines and Altman are now represented. There will be other towns and there will be others in these.

der this head on the outside of the envelope or sent in an envelope separate from the one enclosing coupons. Each envelope received will be sealed the same as an express money package in the presence of the party depositing the vote when delivered in person, and only the end of the envelope will be opened for the verification of the count of inclosed coupons, leaving the package practically intact for the committee who will finally count and verify the Gazette's preliminary count.

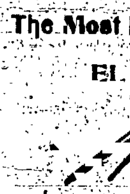

Rules of the Contest.

First. Any young married couple, acceptable to the Gazette management, who resides in El Paso or Teller county, is eligible as a candidate. By young married couple shall be understood all married pairs whose combined age does not exceed 60 years and the date of whose marriage is between August 31st, 1890, and August 31st, 1900.

Second. No one in the employ of the Gazette or of anyone who may donate prizes will be permitted to work in the interest of any of the candidates but must remain strictly neutral, except that the solicitors for the Gazette may receive subscriptions for the Gazette from the candidate or their friends for NOTICE. The penalty for copying this signature is confinement in the penitentiary for a term not less than one year nor more than fourteen years.

How to Vote.

Cut out the voting coupon printed in the Gazette each day, enclose the coupons in an envelope, seal the envelope and write plainly thereon the following:

..........Votes

For..........

From..........

Dated..........

Remarks..........

....

....

....

Under the head of "Remarks" candidates may be announced and any claims for support that friends of candidates may desire to have printed in the Gazette should also be stated un-the period of one week or more.

Third. The subscription price will be 15 cents per week, or 60 cents per month, or three months for $1.75, delivered by carrier or sent to any address by mail, and on each subscription blank must be written plainly the name and address of the party to whom the Gazette is to be sent.

Fourth. The coupons must be neatly cut out of the Gazette each day and either mailed to the Gazette, Colorado Springs, Colo., or deposited in the voting box at the Gazette business office. Coupons sent by mail will be at sender's risk, and to better insure delivery should be sent by express, charges prepaid. Each coupon may be voted for any one of the candidates in the contest and may be voted at any time during the contest.

Fifth. The contest will cover a period of 90 days from June 3d to August 31st, 1900, both dates inclusive, and the voting will close promptly at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, September 1st, 1900, and after this time coupons cannot be voted, and any received will not be counted.

Sixth. A preliminary count of the votes cast from day to day will be made by the contest manager and announced in the Gazette each day. However, after the contest has ended each candidate may appoint a representative and these representatives shall constitute a committee who shall aid the contest manager in making the final count. Said committee may, if not satisfied with the contest manager's count, canvass the whole vote. A majority of the committee shall have the right to announce the result of the standing of each candidate in the contest, and such decision shall be final and binding upon all interested parties. In case of a tie vote the contest manager may cast the deciding vote.

Seventh. The coupon shall be printed each day during the contest in the daily Gazette only, and no papers in large quantities shall be sold containing the coupon, and only the usual number of copies sold each day at 5 cents per copy at the news-stands and by the newsboys on the street shall be sold, thereby confining the contest to coupons cut from subscribers' papers so far as this can be controlled by the Gazette management.

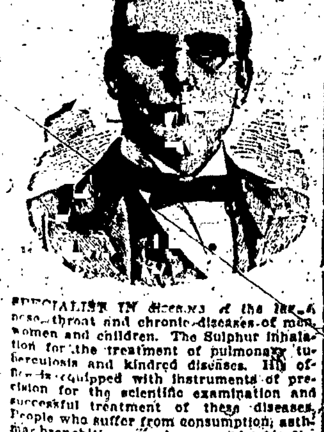

Eighth. All Gazettes spoiled in printing, containing the coupon, shall be burned by the contest manager, and all copies used by the Gazette for the files shall have the coupon cancelled.

Ninth. Candidates may announce for the contest up to and including Sunday, July 1st, 1900; after said date no further announcements will be received. Candidates may withdraw from the contest at any time, but cannot announce such withdrawal in the Gazette as being in the interest of any other contestant; nor can any portion of the votes cast for candidates withdrawing be transferred to any other contestant.

Tenth. These rules may be amended at any time during the contest by a majority vote of all the contestants at any meeting of the candidates duly called by the contest manager, subject, however, to the approval of the Gazette management.

Preparations to Entertain the Veterans

The old soldiers of Colorado City held another meeting Saturday evening at B. F. Irvin's store on Colorado avenue for the purpose of making further arrangements for the "camp fire" which they expect to hold on June 28th.

The meeting was well attended and definite plans were made. Several committees were named to take charge of the celebration. The following are the committees:

General committee B. F. Irvin, J. H. Morse, A. C. Patterson, James Starr, J. E. Clark, E. Y. Love, W. A. Kendall, I. E. Braman and E. B. Matthews.

Committee on solicitation—C. E. Clark, E. Y. Love, E. B. Matthews.

Committee on vocal music—Rev. L. C. Powell, John Worley and B. F. Irvin.

Committee on invitation and speakers J. E. Clark, W. A. Kendall and I. E. Braman.

Committee on programme—B. F. Irvin, W. A. Kendall and J. E. Clark.

Committee on grounds—J. R. Gaff, E. B. Matthews and James Starr.

The past commander of the Colorado Springs post was appointed to preside during the exercises of the day. Mr. A. C. Patterson was chosen to assist him. Mr. J. E. Clark will act as officer of the day.

The programme has not been entirely entirely arranged as yet, but several features have been provided for. One of the interesting features of the day will be a sham court martial trial which will be followed out as provided in the regular army discipline. Company D of Colorado Springs will have guard mount and dress parade. The old soldiers will probably take part in the dress parade. The committee in charge expects to secure the attendance of a company of high school cadets from Colorado Springs.

Another meeting will be held on Thursday evening to complete the arrangements for the celebration.

Messrs. Harvey Hawkes, L. A. Hinman and F. H. Steinmets spent Sunday looking after their mining interests in Cripple Creek.

Mrs. W. M. Kinsman expects to spend a few days of this week with friends in Denver.

Mr. J. M. Milton left Sunday for Salt Lake City where he will remain indefinitely. Mrs. Milton will join him there in a few days.

Messrs. P. Bailey and H. Summit have gone to Denver for a few days stay.

Mrs. F. M. Andrews, son and daughter have gone to Pueblo to spend a few days visiting with friends.

Mr. H. S. Van Cleave is acting foreman in the couch department of the Colorado Midland shops. Mr. F. F. Condit has been placed at the head of the car department.

Mr. M. E. Miller of Winchester, Indiana, was the guest of Mr. I. N. Nichols yesterday. Mr. Miller comes from Mr. Nichols' old home.

Mrs. L. C. McCrory expects to leave today for Plattsburg, Mo., where she will visit with relatives and friends for a few weeks. Mr. McCrory will follow her in a few days.

Mr. F. W. Baker has gone to Denver to spend a few days.

Mr. R. F. Stetler has accepted a position as time keeper at the chlorination works. He formerly held a position at the Colorado Midland shops.

Mr. M. Spordeler has returned from a several weeks trip through Oklahoma Territory.

Mrs. Isaac Kissell and children expect to leave this evening for Youngstown, Ohio, where they will spend the summer months visiting relatives and friends.

Murray and Snyder report the sale of lot 21, block 142, from Frank A. Watt to D. W. Phelan. Mr. Phelan expects to improve the newly purchased property.

Mr. N. B. Hames has returned from Denver where he spent a few days attending the races.

Mr. John Hunt was down from Victor Sunday to spend the day with his family.

Mr. Cloyd Gray returned yesterday morning from St. Louis where he has been for several months.

Mr. W. B. Maitland, a well known insurance man of Denver, was a visitor in the city last Saturday.

Mrs. H. Herron of Galveston, Texas, is in the city for a few days visit.

GOOD RACING AT OVERLAND

Denver, June 11.—Five good events were presented to the 1,500 enthusiastics who flocked to Overland Park to witness the second day's racing. Although the entire card was well contested and full of interest, still it did not come up to the work of the first day. It was not an ideal day for racing and owing to the rain which had fallen Sunday the track was somewhat heavy. In the pacing event Connie won easily in three straight heats, being pushed only by Prosper in the second heat. The 2:35 trotting race proved the event of the day. It took five heats to decide and it was not until Mabel Jefferson had passed under the wire a nose in front of Red Cliff in the last heat that she could be declared a winner.

Summaries:

First race, pacing, 3:00 class, purse $500, best three in five.

BASE BALL

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

New York 8; St. Louis 0.

New York, June 11.—It was Mercer's good pitching, backed by timely batting that enabled the New Yorks to win from St. Louis today. Mercer had excellent control and the fielding behind him was of the best. Score:

New York ....0 0 6 0 1 0 1 0 *—8
St. Louis ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0

Hits—New York 13; St. Louis 5.

Errors—New York 4; St. Louis 3.

Batteries—Mercer and Warner; Hughey and Robinson.

Cincinnati 13; Philadelphia 8.

Philadelphia, June 11.—Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia today. They batted Philadelphia's pitchers at will. They made twelve hits off Orth, and a like number off Fraser. The locals batted well, but not enough to offset the tremendous cannonading of the visitors. Attendance 3,424. Score:

Cincinnati ....0 0 1 3 3 1 0 3 2—13
Philadelphia ....3 2 1 0 0 0 1 1 0— 8

Hits—Cincinnati 24; Philadelphia 14.

Errors—Cincinnati 3; Philadelphia 0.

Batteries—Phillips, Newton and Wood; Orth, Fraser and Douglass, McFarland.

Boston 4; Chicago 3.

Boston, June 11.—Lewis's magnificent work at short saved today's game for Boston. Time and again he killed seemingly sure hits and his backing up of Long and quick return of the ball to the plate in the eighth saved one if not more runs. Both pitchers were effective at critical times. Attendance 1,200. Score:

Boston ....0 0 0 0 0 0 3 1 *—4
Chicago ....0 0 0 1 0 0 0 2 0—3

Hits—Boston 7; Chicago 8.

Errors—Boston 4; Chicago 3.

Batteries—Cuppy and Sullivan; Garvin and Chance.

Brooklyn 8; Pittsburg 7.

Brooklyn, June 11.—Phillippi lasted three innings today and then Waddell tried to stop the hitting of the Brooklyns. He was touched up for a single, a triple and a homer in the fifth and two singles in the seventh, the latter two bringing in the winning run. Pittsburg bunched its hits in three innings on Kennedy, but could not win. Attendance 1,700. Score:

Pittsburg ....2 0 0 3 0 0 0 2 0—7
Brooklyn ....1 0 3 0 3 0 1 0 *—8

Hits—Pittsburg 9; Brooklyn 13.

Errors—Pittsburg 3; Brooklyn 4.

Batteries—Phillippi, Waddell and O'Connor; Zimmer, Kennedy and Farrell.

COLORADO SPRINGS GAZETTE

Published Every Day in the Year

Sixty Cents a Month Seven Dollars a Year

TIME FOR PREPARATION.

EVERYONE is willing to agree that Colorado Springs is growing rapidly and nearly everyone will admit that this growth will continue for many months to come. Some of the building that has been going on is anticipatory of the future, but only a small part of it. The business blocks are for immediate use, the hotels are to be filled as soon as completed, the residences are already leased or are being built for owners who are unable to find other accommodations.

But neither in building nor in other lines of business does there seem to be any adequate effort to provide for what are the undoubted promises of the future.

To a certain extent such a condition is satisfactory, for it shows very clearly that we are in no danger of outstripping our legitimate demands or of collapsing a boom, but on the other hand, it is greatly to be feared that the lack of sufficient accommodations may be a serious interference with our growth.

The completion of the Cripple Creek railroad will bring to this city such an opportunity for business as it has never before had.

It is a question that all our business men should ask themselves. Are we in condition to take advantage of this opportunity?

If we are not, it will not remain open. Trade will be diverted to other cities more distant but more enterprising, and when once established elsewhere it will be a very difficult matter to get it here.

Colorado Springs ought to be the supply point for the whole Cripple Creek district, and it can be made so if our business men will realize their opportunities and take advantage of them.

There are some lines of business that ought to be represented in Colorado Springs that are not. One of these is mining machinery. The first large firm that opens a branch office and store room in this city will be richly repaid for its trouble. It is a great wonder that this has not been done before, for there is not in the west any other city which has bought so large an amount of mining machinery in the past few years as has Colorado Springs. The demand is increasing, and it ought to be possible for our mine owners and managers to buy the equipment they desire without leaving the city.

In many lines of business Colorado Springs is well supplied and her merchants yield to none in enterprise and resource. In other lines there is good opportunity for improvement and it is undoubtedly true that the city is now large enough to maintain many enterprises that have never yet been established here. There never was a time in the history of the city when the opportunities for wide-awake, enterprising and energetic business men were so good as at present.

Colorado Springs ought to be put into a position where she can meet all reasonable demands upon her for business and for residence. People [illegible] turned away and diverted to other less prosperous places because there are no residences or storerooms for their accommodation. [illegible] cities because we have not the facilities for handling it, our own people should not be obliged to visit other cities to procure articles of which we have almost daily need and for which there is a greater demand here than in the cities where they are constantly offered for sale.

To a large extent the present is a time of preparation. Business and population will come to us beyond any doubt if we are ready for them.

It is the part of wisdom to increase our facilities, to establish new enterprises, to provide larger accommodations, in order that we may take advantage of our opportunity and not be obliged to see it diverted from us.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

SO LONG as there was any chance of defeating the nomination of Mr. Bryan the eastern Democrats urged their objections to him with all the force they possessed. They declared him to be a demagogue, they accused him of insincerity and mental unbalance and asserted that he was inseparably connected in the popular mind with gross fallacies of governmental policy and ideas.

Within the past few months it has become apparent that Mr. Bryan's nomination by the Kansas City convention is a foregone conclusion. The western Democrats are in a position to dictate the nominee and there is no doubt as to their choice.

As a result of these conditions, the eastern Democrats are saying very little about Mr. Bryan, but as a last refuge they are urging their party associates of the west to do them the favor to make the platform something different from what it was in 1896, and different too from what the character and the record of the man who will undoubtedly be nominated for president would indicate.

The objection to the Chicago platform on the part of the eastern Democrats is primarily directed towards the part that declares in favor of free silver, although there are other things, such as the reference to the United States supreme court and the power of the federal government to interfere in case of riot, that they would like to see left out.

The demand for a "working platform," as they call it, comes chiefly from the Democrats of New York and some neighboring states, and it is frequently backed by the declaration that the re-adoption of the Chicago platform inevitably means Democratic defeat.

It is a striking illustration of the straits to which the Democratic party is reduced that a large part of its membership should be in the position of endorsing the nomination of a man whose principles they despise and repudiate.

Mr. Bryan has never taken any pains to conceal his endorsement of the Chicago platform. On the contrary he has made it his main business in life for the past four years to advocate its principles and especially that part of it which endorses the free coinage of silver, and within the past month he has reaffirmed his adherence to this as a living political issue of the first importance in an article printed in one of the prominent magazines. Whatever the platform may be, there is not the slightest doubt as to what Mr. Bryan and the men who are his most active supporters believe in regard to finance and the relations of the federal government towards the people of the states. And yet the eastern Democrats are willing to accept Mr. Bryan as a candidate if only it is not put into the platform in so many words that he and his party are in favor of the things which he has been making his chief subject of thought and argument for more than four years.

It is not probable that the frantic appeals of the eastern Democrats will have any weight with the Kansas City convention, nor is there any good reason why they should. The nomination of Mr. Bryan is a sufficient evidence of what the party believes and endorses, and the omission from the platform of the main principles which Mr. Bryan has been talking on every possible occasion and with which he is thoroughly identified, would be nothing more than an evident subterfuge which would deceive no one, but which would leave the party open to a charge of wilful attempt at deception and evasion. The failure to adopt the Chicago platform could not be regarded as anything else than a vote of censure by an influential part of the party upon the party nominee.

The only consistent and logical thing for the Democrats to do is to adopt the Chicago platform over again, add to it their declarations against the trusts and their accusations of imperialism and then to go down as gracefully as possible to defeat.

To nominate Mr. Bryan and then abandon the Chicago platform in the hope of catching eastern voters is a cowardice and trickery of which we do not believe even the Bryan Democracy to be capable.

THE FINANCIAL CENTER.

IF THE fusionists who nominated Mr. Bryan for president in 1896 were sincere in their desire to make the United States financially independent of Europe, they ought to be thoroughly satisfied with the results of Republican rule. It is true that this result was not accomplished in the way that was laid out by them, but after all the result is the important thing, and it could not have been more thoroughly achieved by any means.

Various kinds of statistics have been presented, showing in different ways the independence of the United States from foreign financial control, but all bearing testimony to the same thing.

One of the most striking of these exhibits is to be found in the table of comparative bank clearings for the two cities, New York and London.

From 1892 to 1896 the New York clearings were uniformly less than those of London. In 1895 New York was $7,000,000,000 behind London, the figures being $30,000,000,000 and $37,000,000,000, respectively. In 1896 New York was in round numbers a billion dollars behind. In 1897 New York showed very marked gains and in 1898 the American city was ahead for all months but three. Since July 1898 New York has been ahead of London for every month, the difference in some months amounting to more than a billion and a half dollars. The figures by months are as follows:

CLEARING HOUSE RETURNS.

1899.	New York City.	London.
January	$5,690,749,776	$3,895,988,505
February	4,550,639,231	3,719,972,066
March	5,902,084,979	3,828,611,812
April	5,576,911,811	3,671,642,854
May	5,524,658,306	3,816,479,028
June	4,780,181,072	3,793,704,407
July	4,420,356,113	4,014,560,777
August	4,358,341,843	3,512,172,516
September	4,400,096,378	3,342,424,130
October	5,256,533,246	3,607,979,302
November	4,952,973,249	3,632,336,134
December	5,318,285,867	3,693,911,958
1900.
January	4,464,579,395	3,900,961,040
February	[illegible]	[illegible]
March	4,835,457,330	3,846,958,517

If as seems probable, the clearing house returns of London bear a much larger proportion to the total of the United Kingdom, than do those of New York to those of the United States, the showing is still more favorable to the American side.

At any rate it is clearly established that New York is doing a larger business than London, and if proper methods are pursued and mistakes avoided this condition can be continued indefinitely.

TRADE IN PUERTO RICO.

THE satisfactory condition of trade with the new American colony of Puerto Rico is shown both by the large figures of total value and the proportion that is assigned to the United States.

The figures for the last six months of 1899 and the first month of 1900 are now at hand. They show the total value of merchandise imported into the island during this period was $6,213,115. Merchandise to the value of $1,731,016 was admitted free of duty. The total amount of import duty collected was $691,678.

During the same period goods to the amount of $2,692,069 were exported from the island, upon which was collected as export duty $357.

The trade, by countries, was as follows: Imported from the United States, $2,638,754; from Spain, $1,312,608; from the United Kingdom, $1,074,737. Exports—To Cuba, $797,226; to the United States, $616,396; to France, $404,-110.

These figures are most encouraging. They bear abundant testimony to the natural richness of the island and lead inevitably to the conclusion that within a short time Puerto Rico will be able to care for itself without the assistance that has so generously and liberally been extended by the United States.

THE NEW BANKING LAW.

A RECENT official report by Representative Brosius of Pennsylvania shows the workings of the new banking law up to June 1st.

The total approved applications for banks of capital less than $50,000 to June 1, 1900, were 264, with an aggregate capital of $6,308,000. The applications approved for banks with a capital of $50,000 and over numbered seventy-two, with an aggregate capital of $8,305,000. The total approved applications were 336.

The banks organized with a capital of less than $50,000 were eighty-two, with a capital of $2,175,000. The banks organized with a capital of $50,000 and over were eighty-seven, with an aggregate capital of $5,075,000; total banks organized, 119. The bonds deposited to secure circulation by banks organized amount to $2,236,850.

The net saving to June 1st on the refunding provisions was $7,268,818.

The new law seems to be working satisfactorily and to be meeting the popular demand for additional banking facilities and an increased currency as good as gold.

FOR INDIAN RELIEF.

THE New York committee of One Hundred on Indian Famine Relief has been organized about three [illegible] and during that time has received requests from all parts of the country that it should act as a general agent for the American people in receiving and forwarding relief funds.

In accordance with these requests a circular just issued announces that its services are freely at the command of all who may find them available. The treasurer of the committee is Messrs. Brown Brothers & Co., 59 Wall street, who will receive, receipt for and forward any contribution that may be sent to them.

Respecting the committee's choice of agencies for the actual distribution of such funds as have come to its treasury, all expressed wishes of donors are fully complied with, while the committee, of its own motion, constantly seeks the best means of applying undesignated funds. In the cabling of money, thus far it has employed the "Interdenominational Missionary Relief Committee" of Bombay, which, in the absence from India of our American Bishop Thoburn, is directed by R. A. Hume, American missionary at Ahmednagar. It has also sent funds to "The India Famine Charitable Relief Committee," at whose head is Sir Francis Maclean, Chief Justice of the Province of Bengal. That is the one national non-governmental charitable relief agency of India, and by it all needs are known, as to it all most effective methods of distribution are familiar. Its administration is as magnanimous and wise as would be the administration of a relief fund in this country, presided over by Chief Justice Fuller and men of his kind. Both American and European missionaries are among its chosen agents. To its hands are confided those large free gifts from Great Britain which are over and above the government's official daily relief of not less than six million of sufferers.

FATHER'S NEW-STYLE SHIRT.

Father is a peaceful man, by nature sweet and mild;
(Grandmother says he's been the same since he was quite a child;)
But yesterday there came a change, and father turned things loose,
And filled the air with sulphur fumes and blasphemous abuse.

It chanced that he and mother were invited out to dine,
And father was preparing in a new-dress suit to shine;
His dressing progressed smoothly till he reached his nice clean shirt;
And then we heard an exclamation loud and sharp and curt.

He was somewhat in a hurry, for 'twas nearly time to go
And mother was annoying him by hinting he was slow;
In vain he searched the neck-band for a buttonhole; for he Could find none in the region where it always used to be.

It was a new-style garment, with a nice protective band,
To keep the stud from rubbing 'gainst the skin it had been planned;
When new and quite unlaundered it behaved delightfully,
But things were somewhat altered when it came from the Chinee.

The almond-eyed Mongolian had ironed the band down tight
Until the former buttonhole was wholly out of sight;
Ten minutes passed ere father learned the combination—then
He started with diligence to pry it loose again.

He used his tender fingers till the tips were chafed and sore;
He broke his finger nail at last—and then he calmly swore!
At last he got the screw driver, and hammer—with these two
He succeeded in exposing the lost buttonhole to view.

Serenely he proceeded to slip the garment on;
(And as it opened down the front 'twas somewhat hard to don;)
He soon was in his trousers, and in fact was nearly dressed,
For when dear mother entered he was reaching for his vest.

Just then the storm broke wildly, and his cursings came in floods
When he chanced to discover he'd forgotten both his studs!
He raged and roared most awfully, and made a fearful din,
When he found out that he must just undress and put them in!

With perspiration on his brow and necktie all awry,
And mother [illegible]
almost prepared to cry;
With crimson face and nervous hands and shoes but partly laced,
Dear father filled the atmosphere with language hardly chaste.

And when at last they started there was blood in father's eye,
And we knew that shirt would suffer in the early bye and bye;
That night, when all was still, we heard the rip of linen strands,
And we knew that new-style shirt was wreck by strong, vindictive hands.

A True Hero.

"Hit am er strong man," remarked Uncle Eph, "who can smile in de face w'en he am a weepin' in de heart."

In The Far West.

"[illegible]," inquired the stranger, "does the trial of a horse-thief consume?"

"Wall," replied Rattlesnake Pete, "that depends entirely on how fur away the nearest tree is."

Kitchen Repartee.

"Say," asked the Chopping Bowl, "can [illegible]"

"No," replied the Carving-Knife, "but a tomato-can."

Which seems to show that he was sharper than usual.

Old World [illegible]

(New York Tribune.)

An impressive object lesson, threefold in scope, against our mad destruction of forests comes to us from the Old World. One is in the Indian famine. What causes the famine? Drouth. And what causes the drouth? The answer is in the dryness of the treeless plains and in the abundant moisture of the forest and jungle. The bewildering increase of population under the benign peace of British rule has increased proportionately the demand for arable land, and to supply that demand forest and jungle have been swept away by thousands of square miles. And now come drouth and famine. Another lesson comes from Egypt. The Nile is drying up. Not only does it never even approximate to the height and depth it knew in ancient times, but it is perceptibly dwindling now from year to year. Why? Because in those remote wildernesses toward the sources of the great river forest destruction is proceeding at a rate unrivaled even by our own oestrus goaded tree slayers. And the third is from Congo, where the seemingly inexhaustible forests have already suffered such ravages that men are now talking of the need of protective measures.

We have only to look at Persia and at the Sahara to see the full fruition of the forest destroying. Once Persia was the most fertile land of Asia, well watered and richly wooded. Once the Sahara was the granary of Africa and of Europe. Today they are barren sands. They are still traversed by [illegible] surface. Here and there they rise sufficiently to maintain small oases. Elsewhere they are hidden below sands as dry and sterile as a furnace floor, through which, however, if a well be sunk, the subterranean stream is surely tapped. Wherever by artificial irrigation the area of vegetation, and especially of woodland, is extended, Nature gladly responds with a return toward her former benign conditions. The French in the Sahara are taking advantage of this fact, and are actually making measurable progress toward reclamation of that desert. It is reasonable to believe that through irrigation and reforesting conditions may be [illegible] will cease to be necessary, for Nature will do the work she used to do before her principles of climatic economy were outraged by artificial deforestation.

These lessons, all three of them, are directly applicable to the United States. We have actually known famine in some of the western states through the malign effects of drouth. Some of our streams are dwindling as in the Nile, and threaten to vanish entirely as those of the Sahara have done. And if in the stupendous arboreal wilderness of the Congo it is becoming necessary to devise protective measures, what shall be said of such necessity in a country so recklessly denuded of its woodlands as our own? The laws of nature cannot be violated with impunity. She gave the forests as mediums of natural irrigation. If we destroy the means we lose the end. The law is inexorable. Men now see trickling rills where in their boyhood they saw full brimming streams. And they also see bare, sun scathed hillsides where then they saw dense primeval forests. It is cause and effect, nothing more. But should not rational men learn the lesson?

"Have you heard the news from Oregon?" This was the query which the Democrats were ready to put to their fellow countrymen on the day before the election in that state. But they will not put it. Their organs all over the country were saying that Oregon was a doubtful state, and that it would be carried by the Democrats in the election which has just taken place. All the doubt that is now felt by anybody regarding the majority which Oregon will give McKinley in November is as to whether that lead will be 15,000 or only 10,000 or 12,000.—(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

FROM THE STATE PRESS

A Good Candidate for Governor.

(Leadville News Reporter.)

Since Lake county will probably be called on to furnish the timber for the Democratic governor we would like to suggest for that place the name of a man who has the brains and ability to fill the office as few men in the state are able. That man is ex-Senator Crowe, whose business judgment and executive ability would be worth a great deal to Colorado. Senator Crowe has a better idea of justice and right and the backbone to assert it than most men in the state.

The Naming of Breckenridge.

(Summit County Journal.)

For whom the town of Breckenridge was christened seems to be an unsolved problem. The essay by Ella Foote, published in last week's Journal, has brought out considerable discussion on that question. In her article Miss Ella states that the town was named after Thomas Breckenridge, one of the party of first settlers. Several prominent citizens here have called our attention to the fact that in this particular the writer goes directly contrary to Hall's History of Colorado, an authority that is accepted in most all controversies. In order to give the other side a "day in court," we publish the paragraph of Hall's history touching that point:

"Early in 1860 the town of Breckenridge was founded by a prospecting company composed of Gen. George E. Spencer (United States senator of Alabama, in the reconstruction period, after the war of the rebellion) and others, under the name of Spencer, Humphreys, McDougal and Wagstaff. Arriving on the scene in August, 1859 (probably in conjunction with Mr. Spalding's party), they began building cabins on the site, which is situated half a mile above the mouth of French gulch, on the east side of the Blue river (now the main thoroughfare). In the spring of 1860 Spencer & Co. claimed, under the town-site law of congress, 320 acres of land, which was surveyed and partly platted by an engineer named Samuel Jones, and the place christened in honor of John C. Breckinridge, then vice-president of the United States, and for reasons which follow: The founders, earnestly desiring the location of a post office near the newly discovered mines, together with a regularly established postal route from Denver, appealed to B. D. Williams, a Democrat and a Kentuckian by birth, then representing the settlers of the Pike's Peak region in the lobby of congress, for the privileges mentioned. Williams answered that if the residents would consent to name the town for the vice-president the chances for getting a post office would be enhanced thereby. His prophecy was almost immediately verified. The office was established and Gen. George E. Spencer appointed postmaster, but before his commission arrived he left the country, turning the office over to O. A. Whittemore. At a later period the orthography of the name was changed to 'Breckenridge,' owing to the prominent part which Mr. John C. Breckinridge assumed on the Confederate side in the civil war."

What Tourists Miss.

(Lake City Times.)

It has always been the case that some of the best things to be seen were remote of access. One is forcibly reminded of this by the large number of tourists who visit Manitou and Pike's peak and the few who visit Lake City and Uncompahgre peak. Pike's peak has been made famous by advertising. Home papers keep it before the public. Pleasure-seekers from the east visit it because it is the only peak of any consequence on the main line of travel; they go home and tell their friends about it. The eastern newspaper men write about it, and it is talked about so much that the idea is prevalent that Pike's peak is the only one in Colorado worth seeing. Of course, Zebulon Pike's discovery is a grand sight to one who never saw anything better, but no one who has ever stood on the top of Uncompahgre could have a very high regard for Pike's peak.

Hinsdale county is not dependent upon one feature for scenic attractions. Lake City, where the tourist ends his ride by rail, is the prettiest mountain town in Colorado. Other towns have their attractions, but for a truly ideal place, the realization of a poet's dream, where one may look and be transported beyond the unpleasant realities of the world we are used to, no other town can compare with ours. The wide, smooth streets, with the long avenues of large shade trees, make a spin on a wheel in the morning or evening irresistibly tempting. The foothills east of town remind one of the storied Arcadian hills, and the beholder listens and half expects to hear the notes of some shepherd boy's flute coming from the hollows.

There are paths up and down these hills and through the ravines—a delightful place for a quiet stroll.

Granite Falls, at the upper edge of town, is a spot much favored by lovers. From time immemorial rivulets have rippled and brooklets murmured of love, but these great falls roar it by day and by night. All through the day, when touched by the sun, little rainbows [illegible]

Lake San Cristobal, four miles above town, is a favorite place for recreation. Nearly everybody goes to the lake on Sunday; and many through the week. It is beautiful beyond comparison and is the attraction of which Lake City is the proudest.

Uncompahgre Peak is reached by a day's ride on horseback, at the low cost of $2. From its summit the longest vision ever accomplished with the naked eye—183 miles to Mt. Ellen, Utah—is recorded. Pike's Peak is plainly visible on the east. The Carrizo mountains of Arizona, the Henry and La Sal mountains of Utah and mountains in northern New Mexico can [illegible] is the highest peak in the state, being 14,600 feet. All the great mountains of the San Juan section can be seen from its summit.

Crystal Peak is another attraction. It is only six miles from town and is reached by a bridle path. At the base of the peak is Crystal lake, a small body of water. A favorite pastime of visitors to this place is the search for crystals. The two peaks can be visited in one day by going and returning by Crystal Peak.

A pretty place for camping, where [illegible] is on Clear creek, a day's drive from town.

One who likes to climb hills and gather stones for a cabinet collection can find a wide field here. There are geode beds, volcanic glass, petrified wood, agate, etc.

Around Carson, in Burrows Park and in the vicinity of Rose's Cabin the mountain sheep can be seen in its wild haunts.

The whole country abounds in pretty places for camping, picnicking, riding and driving.

Tourists who want the best should come this way.

Even if the Republican party had no other record than that made by the present congress it would deserve to win this year.—(Trinidad Chronicle-News.

J. K. Miller Sells North Nevada House

Another big deal in Colorado Springs residence property was consummated yesterday through the agency of Henry LeB. Wills and company. It is probably the largest deal that has been put through north of the college reservation for several years.

J. K. Miller, the well known mining broker, has sold to Dr. W. A. Hickman of Philadelphia the beautiful residence property at 1919 North Nevada avenue, which has been the home of Mr. and Mrs. Miller and family since its erection. The consideration for the property, approximately $20,000, is one of the largest that has been recorded for a property north of the college.

The purchaser, Dr. Hickman, with his charming wife, who are well known in Philadelphia, will be cordially received into the already large Philadelphia colony, so to speak, in Colorado Springs. As soon as he gets established in his new headquarters Dr. Hickman will continue his practice of medicine.

The home which he has purchased contains about 15 rooms and is handsomely appointed in every particular. The grounds are especially beautiful, extending for 100 feet along North Nevada avenue.

Wills and company also report the sale of the northeast corner of Tejon and Cimarron streets, a lot measuring 50 by 190 feet. Mr. J. P. Curtis is the purchaser.

The same firm has sold a full sized lot on Monument street between Prospect and Institute to Mr. J. C. Loons.

Takes Live Stock Census in Interest of Prices

Dr. Charles Cresswell, former state veterinarian under Alva Adams's last administration, is always in a hurry. He has to hurry more than usual now, because Uncle Sam depends upon him to perform the duties of special live stock census agent for thirty-five counties of Colorado. He swung down from a Rio Grande train yesterday afternoon and rushed toward a herdic, but stopped long enough to talk to a Gazette representative about his work "for a few lines."

"I must hurry to the court house," he said, "to secure the names of the owners of more than 500 head of live stock in this county. I have just traveled 500 miles in a buggy, covering Arapahoe county and estimate that I must use the same method in this county for 150 miles. Our work is distinct from that of the census enumerators and is calculated to demonstrate to the eastern buyers that cattle raising in particular in the western states is not so cheap as they think, and to obtain better prices generally for our stock.

"There are thirty-six of us who are to cover the western range country in about six months. We began on May 11. The enumerators meet the farmers and owners of small herds, but we reach eastern men who have heavy stock interests here; give much attention to roving herds and those in transit which enumerators could not likely catch. When done, our work will afford the government accurate statistics as to the number of cattle we have, where they are, how many two and three year olds and yearlings, and tell of the ranges, the cost of raising, etc.

"In the east it is generally thought that we can raise cattle out here much cheaper than the fact. They think $4 per hundred is high for feeders, when in reality it is not a price commensurate in most cases with the expense of raising. One New York paper of some influence among stock buyers has made the statement that we can raise beef to maturity for $10 per head. A casual investigation of the expense of raising, the damage by storms, etc., will soon put to rout this theory. Under the present circumstances, cattlemen can not make much ... money ... they are losing. The result of our census will put the facts before the world and doubtless bring good results to stockmen.

"Sheep men generally are doing well. The high price of wool and heavy demand for mutton account for this, but the census will serve them to a good purpose. It will give available resources for the future, and place the government and stock interests of the country in the same relative position ... for a railroad and the equipment."

Dr. Gresswell will devote some time to El Paso county. Since May 11 he has been occupied with Arapahoe and Douglas counties.

Incidentally he tells of the rapidly spreading Republican sentiment where fusion parties have prevailed. In Arapahoe county, nearly every stockman he dealt with was a Republican, and elsewhere the Democrats and Populists are few and far between.

"Any Old Thing" in the "Balance of Power"

"We have Catholics, Jews, Republicans, Democrats, Populists and all other brands now, with a good outlook for a plenty of ammunition before the fall campaign begins to crack."

The vigorous lungs of Herbert George would have been readily recognized even if his rosy face had not appeared at the window of a Rio Grande coach bound for Denver yesterday afternoon. He spoke of his proposed balance of power committee in Arapahoe county, and proceeded to tell with his own inimitable originality of the plan and its progress.

"We've got 320 signatures in Arapahoe county now, 30 in Clear Creek, 11 here in Colorado Springs, 6 in Lake, 50 in Pueblo (I employ fifty men down there in my quarries), and a good foothold in Delta, Gilpin, Teller, San Miguel and Larimer counties."

"Our plan is this, taking Arapahoe for instance. We will have 1,000 signers, none of whom will be a candidate or has been a candidate for office in Colorado. They are principally influential citizens who are not active in politics, but who would be if it was not so filthy. We propose to hold the balance of power. In Arapahoe county 2,000 votes will control this, and with 750 of our class of men, we could manipulate that many, but to be safe we will have 1,000 signers. Then when there comes a campaign or convention, the political parties will have to renovate themselves, or the balance of power will do it for them. We will not affiliate with any party, but propose to take up the cleanest ticket and support it. When they put up somebody we do not like, we will call him down or support what portion of the ticket we like and wield the balance of power to the best advantage of the community. For instance, when Mr. — bobs up, we will say: 'You take that chicken thief down,' and the balance of power hanging over them will have a telling effect.

"In Denver we have for signers such men as Judge France, Joseph Cresswell, T. C. Henry, Rev. David Utter, Father Corrigan and others. The balance of power committee will have an organization in every county that is large enough to keep down the scalawags. The sore-heads cannot get in our committees; I am the only one of them allowed to participate."

Everybody knows Herbert George, the editor of George's Weekly so loudly heralded by Owens, the newsboy at Sixteenth and Curtis streets in Denver. This paper is the outcome of the New Road, formerly published by Mr. George, which was the first Populist paper in the United States. The nation owes a good deal of its grudge for the infliction of Populism to Mr. George, who fanned the first flame with his paper, and of which distinction he is proud.

GAY THRONG TO BE AT CASINO TONIGHT

This evening at the casino the druggists of the state will be entertained with a ball and concert. The casino is also open to the public and a large crowd is expected to be present. The druggists are the guests of Meyer Bros. drug house of St. Louis. They will come from Manitou in a private car and will arrive at the casino at 8 o'clock. From 9 to 11:30 there will be dancing.

Herr Richter, first violin with the Broadmoor orchestra, is expected tomorrow. Since his theater engagement closed in Denver he has been busy arranging the score of an opera that is to be produced in New York this coming year. Rehearsals will begin immediately for the symphony concert next Sunday evening. The orchestra will give a fine programme this afternoon.

Buttonhole Interviews

"People of the State of Colorado vs. Clark House."

"What is the entry on the record for that case?" called one of the clerks in the district court yesterday.

"Nolle prosequi," was the reply.

"And there's a queer thing about that case," said Mr. Manning. "It's an old case and was disposed of some time ago by entering that 'nolle.' A burglary was committed somewhere, I think it was in Cripple. An information was made out and the case was docketed according to the information as People vs. Clark House. It finally developed that the proper defendant was held to trial all right under his proper name, but that the defendant Clark House, was the name of the place where the burglary was committed. The record was cleared by entering this 'nolle.'"

"I want to say something good for the management of the Cog road," said W. K. Nelson of Detroit at the Alamo yesterday. I started up the peak and when within a few hundred yards of the summit we encountered a snow plow that had not yet got through the heavy banks deposited on the track during the storm of the day before. We were treated royally, and every passenger was invited to accept a passage to the summit free of charge for today's trains.

"It is too bad that these dandelions have been allowed to go to seed," remarked R. R. Hathaway of Denver, yesterday as he strolled past the Antlers park. "You can now plow and plow and reseed all you want, but you cannot get rid of them. The private part of Antlers park should have been mowed as the public domain was before the little flowers went to seed. This flying down will spread for blocks around and treble the crop of dandelions in the whole park before the end of the season."

HIGH HONORS FOR DR. FLORIAN CAJORI

A letter received in the city from Professor A. Gutzmer, of the University of Jena, announces that Dr. Florian Cajori, head professor of mathematics in Colorado college, has been elected to membership in the German Mathematical Union.

This honor, which is one of the highest which a mathematician may aspire, became possible through Dr. Cajori's three books on the history of mathematics and through his original research on the subject of infinite series.

The German Mathematical Union is the most prominent mathematical society in Germany. Its list of foreign members includes about one dozen mathematicians of America.

Madame Tully, the well known toilet specialist, has returned from New Orleans and is stopping at the Alamo hotel for a few days. Madame Tully will spend the summer at the Mansions at Manitou. THE ANTLERS FIRE AGAIN BOBS UP

Suit of Crissey-Fowler Co. vs. Rio Grande on Trial.

IN THE SECOND DIVISION

Lumber Company and the Insurance Companies Interested in the Outcome of the Suit Will Endeavor to Establish a Claim for Damages Against the Company On Whose Property the Fire Started.

There have been in the local courts one or two echoes of the Antlers fire of October 1, 1898.

In division No. 2 of the district court yesterday, before Judge Rucker of Aspen, there was a re-echo and it reverberates with greater noise than ever. It is the strongest and most carefully prepared attempt that has yet been made by the sufferers from the great fire to fasten the liability for their losses upon the Denver & Rio Grande Railway company, on whose property the fire originated and from which it spread until the heart of the city was threatened. The Crissey & Fowler Lumber company appears as the plaintiff in the suit, which is for about $21,000, but a dozen or more insurance companies which found it necessary to pay losses resulting from the fire, are associated in the case and should it be terminated favorably to the plaintiffs other and still bigger suits may be looked for.

The entire day yesterday was taken up in securing a jury to hear the testimony. Eminent legal counsel appears in behalf of the parties to the suit and the progress of the trial will be watched with keen interest by the people.

In division 1 of the district court yesterday Judge Harris heard a large number of motions. The business of the day included the following:

Brinker versus U. P., D. & G. railway, stricken from the calendar.

People versus John Williams, defendant's motion for new trial withdrawn and prisoner was sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary, his term to be not less than twenty nor more than twenty-five years. The defendant in this case enters the penitentiary at the age of 58 years.

People versus Irene Toliver, defendant's plea of not guilty withdrawn; pleads guilty and is sentenced to industrial school for girls for a term to expire April 22, 1902.

Mary J. Cassady versus John Nolan; defendant's motion for new trial argued and taken under advisement.

W. A. Sheard versus W. A. Campbell, by consent orders stricken from calendar and reset for trial July 5.

In the county court yesterday a divorce case entitled Charles H. Allis versus Clara Allis was filed. Cruelty is charged.

In the case of Pratt L. Co. versus E. Munroe, motion of defendant to set aside judgment was argued and taken under advisement.

Considerable interest was manifested in the probate case in the estate of Mille ... Albert Burtsch of Cripple Creek filed his final report as administrator of the estate and his stepdaughter, Mrs. Mile McGuirk, who ... now 22 years of age, seeks to prevent an approval of the report, charging that her step-father has misused funds belonging to the estate.

The court will take a little time to think over the evidence.

EASTER BELL ORE

Iron Stained Quartz in Shaft on Hawkeye No. 2--Jones Lease Bonanza Ore Disappointing in Value.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek, June 11—President and General Manager Sweeney of the Easter Bell company reports to-night that the contractors engaged in sinking the big shaft on the Hawkeye No 2 of that company, have broken into a fine [illegible] of decomposed iron stained quartz. The find was made at a depth of forty feet but the width of the lead if such it be has not been determined. Sinking will be steadily continued and the find exploited later unless of course the ore proves valuable and remains in the shaft. Machinery is arriving and will [illegible] H T Davis and J R McKinnie visited the property today and later drove back to the Springs.

Disappointed Lessees

That [illegible] the results as shown by assay certificates and smelter returns was once more evidenced by the returns received today from a sacked shipment of four and a half tons from the Jones lease of the Jeff Davis. This ore it will be remembered was prior to shipment [illegible] keeping. No single assay has shown less value than twenty ounces to the ton and a number had run in the hundreds yet the returns received yesterday gave values of thirteen ounces to the ton only. Fifteen tons of second grade ore shipped at the same time went a little less than five ounces to the ton. The results needless to say were disappointing to the lessees. The Jeff Davis is owned by the Lexington company.

Four car loads of ore were shipped to day from the Gold [illegible] Mountain. Two cars were of $30 screenings and two cars of coarse rock worth [illegible].

J R Smith shipped to day from the Elizabeth Co per forty tons of three ounce screenings and forty tons of three ounce ore.

Drifting has been resumed north from the shaft in the bottom level of the Estella company's Ida May property on the south slope of Copper mountain. For some time the miners have been employed in cross cutting to the breccia which forms the contact with the country granite; this breccia formation was thirty five feet in width and samples taken from it assayed from $6 to $10 a ton.

The Greyback District

There would appear from the different [illegible] divergence of opinion regarding the merits of the Greyback country. J J Miller a well known mining man of this camp who returned from that region yesterday gives a glowing account of its prospects. What is of more importance he brought back with him some 200 pounds of samples taken from the different holes in the camp. None of these prospects were more than sixty feet deep. These samples when assayed to day gave results of $24 40 to $2 000 a ton. Mr Miller reports over 20 Cripple Creek miners interested in the district. Among the prominent operators are the Whipples, A E Carlton and Mayor Whalen of Altman. In all there were some 1,000 men in the district and coming out he met some twenty five teams from Rosita going in.

HITCHCOCK GRANTS PETITION

And the Case of the Wilson Creek Company vs. the Hull City Placer Will Be Reopened in the United States Court.

Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock yesterday granted [illegible] Wilson Creek company that the case against the Hull City placer might be heard before the United States district court and accordingly proceedings to set aside the patent of the Hull City placer will be opened before Judge Hallett in Denver.

The case has been before Secretary Hitchcock [illegible] when upon the arrival of W S Montgomery [illegible] the Wilson Creek attorneys presented that side of the case before the secretary yesterday morning. [illegible] afterwards the secretary sustained the Wilson Creek people in their appeal.

The officers of the Independence T and M company in this city confirm the [illegible] information in regard to [illegible] before Judge Hallett [illegible].

The coming legal fight will be one of [illegible] litigation. After having [illegible] the interior the Wilson Creek company [illegible] found one who would sustain them in [illegible] efforts nor money to follow up their advantage and push the fight.

The trouble between the two companies began when the Independence T and M company first applied for patent of the Hull City placer the patent being contested by the Wilson Creek people who contended that there never was a valid placer location and that their lode location should be given the preference. The Independence T and M company won. After that case after case was begun to set aside the patent charging fraud in securing it but each one was a victory for the In[dependence] [illegible] proceedings which were opened by the Wilson Creek company charges of perjury were made against W S Montgomery. The case was lost in the court in Cripple Creek and the suit to prove perjury [illegible] pushed.

The Independence T and M people feel that this granting of the petition for the case to be heard in a United States court is not of necessity a misfortune to themselves as the same arguments [illegible] sides which have in so many cases been [illegible] decided the location for them. However it will be a bitter fight and the Wilson Creek company have evidently hopes of victory.

A sale [illegible] Colorado Springs Mining Stock exchange yesterday in which [illegible] shares of the Wilson Creek stock sold at 10½ this price being [illegible] cents higher than the price at which the last sale was made a few days ago.

GREATER GOLD BELT DIVIDEND

The Stockholders Ratified the Sale of the Badger Boy and the Directors Declared a Dividend of Two Cents per Share.

At a special meeting held yesterday morning the stockholders of the Greater Gold Belt Mining company ratified the deal proposed some time since by the directors of the company to sell the Badger Boy claim for the sum of $100,000.

There was an extremely large representation of stock at the meeting. The company is capitalized for 5,000,000 shares but there are outstanding only 4,507,805 shares. Of this amount there were represented at the meeting either in person or by proxy 3,681,039 shares there being only 126,369 shares lacking to an entire representation. The ratification was unanimous and all seemed pleased with the course which the directors had taken in bringing about the sale for that amount. Although the price of the claim was put at $100,000 the Greater Gold Belt company receives $90,000 net. The purchaser is C W Kurie as trustee for the same persons [illegible] buying so much property in that vicinity.

After the stockholders had all arranged the directors met and authorized the president and secretary of the company to prepare the necessary legal papers to consummate the sale and also recommended the declaration of a dividend when the money was received.

Accordingly the papers were prepared yesterday afternoon the deed was delivered to Mr Kurie who at once handed over a check for $90,000. The checks were made out directly and it is supposed that the entire amount of the dividend $[illegible] will be nearly all distributed today.

The Greater Gold Belt company now has a cash balance of $18,834.54 in the treasury and [illegible] given that they are foresighted business men in reserving such a substantial cash balance for the treasury rather than adopting the dividend policy common with many companies which sell part of their property in paying out in dividends practically all of the money which they received from the sale.

It has not yet been decided on what property this money will be expended in development work but it is the intention of the directors to actively develop one of their numerous good claims. The Lynch [illegible] Boy is one of their best remaining claims and is at present being worked by three sets of lessees who are getting good ore and making small shipments. The company has in fund use a acreage left even after the sale of the Badger Boy aggregating nearly 100 acres in the Cripple Creek district.

MR. JOHN W. PROUDFIT TALKS

Mr John W Proudfit of the firm of John W Proudfit and company of this city returned yesterday from a two weeks trip in the east looking after [illegible] business interests. He visited both New York and Philadelphia and [illegible] is that the feeling in those [illegible] generally is still [illegible] in favor of investment in Cripple Creek mines and mining [illegible] this feeling even [illegible].

[illegible] Mr Proudfit has told [illegible] or less week is a strong [illegible] which is not [illegible] east in any stocks and will [illegible] responsible for bringing [illegible] of eastern capital into [illegible] argue that if a stock [illegible] with all the varying conditions which stock markets are [illegible] maintain its strength as [illegible] our local mining stocks [illegible] there must certainly be some [illegible] shape of the great Cripple Creek gold fields.

In the event of a war with China which seems not at all unlikely [illegible] the stocks in the east would suffer and there would probably be [illegible] of sympathetic suffering [illegible] but the record which our market has had especially during the South African war will [illegible] its favor and invite investment in Cripple Creek stocks rather than in those [illegible] in the east.

[illegible] Mr Proudfit answering a question relative to the [illegible] situation the [illegible] business generally [illegible] it will be felt but very little that here it will be felt but very little and I do not look for any great drain on the mining stock business on account of it.

Mr Proudfit succeeded in placing a large block of stock of one of the Cripple Creek dividend paying companies while he was in the east but the details of the deal in which his trip was primarily interested [illegible] for publication.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

The stock of the Theresa Gold Mining [illegible] yesterday at [illegible] that there had been an important strike made on the Theresa claim adjoining the Legal Tender mine on Bull hill. The report [illegible] could not be verified [illegible] officers of the company in this city say that they have been informed of a strike and so far as they know there has been no new development of importance on the property. The workings on the Theresa [illegible] it is reported that [illegible] made the strike. There [illegible]

EXPERTS DISCREDIT THE REPORTED NATIONAL STRIKE

[illegible] both the officers of the National company and interested outsiders report that there is no such strike in the Red Bird property as the lessees have been proclaiming. At the depth [illegible] feet the lessees have run a drift under the [illegible] but the drift itself is in a barren [illegible] in which proves that the ore shoot [illegible] before the depth of 200 feet is attained. In a short time the ore will all be stoped out. The last shipment [illegible] the property averaged $20 a ton and although the next will run something higher, as there is a rich streak [illegible] the ore from which will be included [illegible] is no [illegible] opened up on the property. It is alleged that [illegible] in this city are holding up the stock and that somebody is going to be badly pinched

PHARMACIST CLAIM HAS JUST BEEN LEASED.

A lease has just been granted by the Pharmacist Consolidated company to a syndicate composed of [illegible] capitalists on their Pharmacist claim on Bull hill. The lease runs for two years [illegible] date and calls for a per cent straight royalty and stipulates for [illegible] feet of sinking. The lessees will do the sinking in the main shaft of the property which is now down 70 feet, so that [illegible] shaft will be 500 feet deep. It is understood that those who are going into the lease are determined to spend money freely and again mine ore from this property which has already produced [illegible] rock to the value of over $100,000

ISABELLA DIVIDEND WILL BE DECLARED TODAY

The regular monthly meeting of [illegible] Isabella Gold Mining company was to have been held yesterday afternoon but owing to [illegible] directors present at the meeting it was postponed to this morning when it will be held and the quarterly dividend of the company will be declared. It is supposed that this will be at the usual rate of 3 cents per share on the total capitalization of 2,250,000 shares and amount to $67,500. When this amount is paid to stockholders the company [illegible] $6[illegible] 000 [illegible] dividends

WORK STARTED ON GOLD KNOB SHAFT

The shaft which the Gold Knob company is going to [illegible] to a depth of 500 feet on the Aluminum claim has just been started. Owing to the snow it has been impossible to start work any sooner but it is supposed from now on the work will go on steadily

EASTERN MARKETS

New York Stocks

New York June 11—After a day of great irregularity in the movement of prices and an extremely narrow interest in the market prices of stocks [illegible] toward on the downgrade. There were one or two periods of firmness and a few [illegible] features of strength but practically all the gains were wiped out.

The principal influence in the movement of the stocks was the more heavy tone of the Berlin market and the belief that the [illegible] affairs there was [illegible]. A strong return for the week of the Imperial bank of Germany emphasized this feeling. But the sentiment in Berlin advanced again today and in New York both the sterling exchange rate and the rate in Berlin rose. [illegible] the purchase here of stocks for the foreign account.

The late weakness on the market was [illegible] partly due to the report which found currency near the close that gold to a considerable amount will be shipped by next Thursday's steamer from New York to the continent.

Statistics of railroad traffic from Chicago show a further falling off in the receipts of grain at that point although the east bound movement of freight was considerably better than the week before. The comparative firmness of the trunk line stocks was thus explained.

[illegible] though there were a few exceptions [illegible] total sales [illegible] $1[illegible] 000

United States new 4s advanced ¼ in bid price.

Chicago Grain

Chicago June 11—Wheat was excited and buoyant [illegible] and the pit a very busy place—even busier than during the three preceding sessions. A huge amount of trading was transacted. All the commission houses had an extra number of brokers in the pit jammed in crammed [illegible] to get in as one of [illegible] put [illegible] fluctuations were wild. [illegible] there was but one consideration the situation of the spring wheat [illegible] were tempered by large profit taking sales. Had it not been for these sales the price might have advanced right on through the roof. Despite the stuff put on the market in this way most of the advance was held.

Prices depended upon the pressure of buyers or sellers at the time. July opened at [illegible] and shot up to 73¾ with out a break. Realizing by longs forced it back to [illegible] but following the dip the market advanced aggressively to [illegible] the highest price since October when the Boer war began. A decline from this price to [illegible] was followed by this bulge. July dropped to 73¼ then recovered to 73¾@[illegible] and to wind up dropped [illegible] which the market closed [illegible] over Saturday.

At the opening the fact that the northwest had received no rain over Sunday was a piece of bull information [illegible] traders in the face. Rain had fallen to moderate showers around the drought stricken territory but the Dakotas and Minnesota were still dry. The [illegible] service prediction held forth no hope of relief. SHARE AND SHARE ALIKE

OVER a year ago we gave this same advice, and time has fully proved the correctness of it. A decline in one will be accompanied by a corresponding rise in the other, thereby maintaining the balance, and making comparatively little change in the original cost price of both stocks.

WILSON CREEK will be a constant INSURANCE for Independence. At present quotations the cost of 1000 Shares of Wilson Creek and 1000 Shares of Independence will be considerably less than the value of 1000 of the stock which eventually comes out victorious in the pending litigation. We believe that the purchase of these two stocks, share and share alike, is about as near a "sure thing" as possible.

The combination mentioned above will, we feel sure, yield handsome profits and big dividends.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, June 11.—There was somewhat of a better market on the Colorado Springs mining stock exchange today, with several stocks in very good demand, some instances of decided strength and a better color to the general trading than there was last week. It is often the case, however, that on Monday the trading is somewhat better than it was during the week previous, owing to an accumulation of orders over Sunday, and Monday's trading often promises more than is fulfilled during the week following.

Probably the most conspicuous feature of the entire day's trading, as well as that of the afternoon, was the extraordinary strength manifested by Elkton stock, having advanced from $1.23 in the morning to $1.29½ at the close in the afternoon under very good trading. In the afternoon the stock opened at $1.29½ bought at 30 days, and a regular sale was made as low as $1.29, after which the stock steadily advanced. Elkton seemed to be a favorite with time traders to a certain extent. Following on the heels of Elkton are several other candidates for prominent features in the trading, among which National is by far the heaviest trader, about 130,000 shares having changed hands during the two calls, with the price fluctuating around 12, and 10,000 shares selling regular at that price. Then the trading on the afternoon call was very heavy in Independence T. and M., although the price was practically stationary. It was noticed, however, that the stock of the Wilson Creek company sold on the pit call for 16½, which is 3½ cents higher than the price at which the last sale was made. Theresa was a favorite stock on both calls, and was traded in on the second, selling as high as 9¾, but closing at 9¼. Portland went slightly above $3 again, selling as high as $3.02, but went back a cent at the close. Isabella was stationary at $1.25. Vindicator sold at $1.48, Ingham was quiet at 20¼, but C. C. Columbia went another fraction higher, and closed at 8¾.

The sales for the day amounted to 542,334 shares exchanged, the total cash value of the day's trading being $105,027.85.

BOILS AND CARBUNCLES

These unwelcome visitors usually appear in the spring or summer, when the blood is making an extra effort to free itself from the many impurities that have accumulated during the winter months.

Carbuncles, which are more painful and dangerous, come most frequently on the back of the neck, eating great holes in the flesh, exhaust the strength and often prove fatal. Boils are regarded by some people as blessings, and they patiently and uncomplainingly endure the pain and inconvenience under the mistaken idea that their health is being benefitted, that their blood is too thick anyway, and this is Nature's plan of thinning it. The blood is not too rich or too thick, but is diseased—is full of poison—and unless relieved the entire system will suffer. The boil or carbuncle gives warning of serious internal troubles, which are only waiting for a favorable opportunity to develop. Many an old sore, running ulcer, even cancer, is the result of a neglected boil.

Painful Boils

Dangerous Carbuncles

Mr. R. M. Duell, Cave, S. C., writes: "For twenty years I was sorely afflicted with boils and carbuncles caused by impure blood. It is impossible to describe my suffering; part of the time being unable to work or sleep. Several doctors treated me, and I tried all the so-called blood remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good. During the summer of 1898 I was persuaded to try S.S.S., and after taking several bottles was entirely cured and have had no return of these painful pests up to the present time."

Keep the blood pure, and it will keep the skin clear of all the irritating impurities that cause these painful, disfiguring diseases.

S. S. S. cures boils and carbuncles easily and permanently by reinforcing, purifying and building up the blood and ridding the system of all accumulated waste matter.

S. S. S. is made of roots and herbs which act directly on the blood, and all poisons, no matter how deep-seated, are soon overcome and driven out by this great purely vegetable medicine.

S. S. S. is not a new, untried remedy, but for fifty years has been curing all kinds of blood and skin diseases. It has cured thousands, and will cure you. It is a pleasant tonic as well as blood purifier—improves the appetite and digestion, builds up your general health and keeps your blood in order.

Our physicians have made blood and skin diseases a life study—write them fully about your case, and any information or advice wanted will be cheerfully given. We make no charge whatever for this service. Send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases—free. Address, The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

RAILROADS CONTINUE LOW RATES EAST

The travel from Colorado Springs to the east as a result of the low rates that went into effect on the different roads yesterday was bigger than was anticipated. There were great numbers of people on all the outgoing trains and there was every indication that the exodus would continue today. In view of this fact the railroads decided that they would allow two more days in which the tickets at reduced rates may be purchased.

Early in the day an announcement came from the headquarters of the Rock Island that the 13th and 14th would be added to the selling dates and it was not long before the Colorado & Southern and Rio Grande made the same announcement for their [illegible].

The reduced rate is a rate of $2 plus one fare for the round trip. All tickets sold Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at these rates are good to return until October 31.

PARADE OF THE "SILENT PARTNERS"

Tomorrow morning at 8:30 the Society of the Wives and Sisters of the Druggists of the State of Colorado, will take fifty-two coaches from the Hotel Mansions, Manitou, and drive through the Garden of the Gods and through the streets of Colorado Springs, stopping at Hefty-Nicolarius Drug company's drug store, where that firm entertains the ladies with refreshments. The carriages for the "parade" are furnished by D. V. Wheeler, western agent of the Richardson Drug company. Mr. Wheeler has represented the Richardson Drug company for over twenty years in Colorado and has had close business and friendly relations with the druggists of the state during that time and gives this ride as a personal compliment to the wives and sisters of his friends.

Burlington Route

TRUTHS!

Our cars are no better—in themselves—than the cars of other lines. It is what is INSIDE them that makes them more comfortable.

For instance: The seats in our reclining chair cars are provided with linen head pieces, clean and cool. Our dining-cars have electric fans, and are gorgeously decorated with flowers. In every car is a thermometer, which the porter constantly consults in order to keep the temperature of his car as nearly uniform as possible.

By themselves, these things are trifles, but the sum total of them goes a long way toward making a trip over the Burlington a mighty enjoyable experience.

Burlington trains leave Denver 4:00 and 10:00 p. m. for Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago.

That : Are : Truly : Exceptional Values.

Here are two lots of fashionable suits that haven't known this store more than two months. Our anticipations of a large business were knocked out by bad weather and a slow spring. Can't wait for them to move themselves. New ones are coming, so, to move them ourselves

Eighteen all-wool serge and cheviot suits, finished in true tailor fashion, were $12.50 and $13.50, now ... $7.50

Thirty covert, cheviot and homespun suits, well made and lined throughout, were $17.50, $18.00, $18.50 and $19.00, now ... $12.00

SUMMER FABRICS REDUCED.

These goods are new. They were made for this summer's wear. It seems a shame to let them go at these prices, but we're overstocked. Now to reduce them.

Our entire line of Irish Dimities, comprising the very latest conjurings that fashion has approved for us this season; were 25c a yard, this week ... 20c

Seven pieces of Satin Striped Ginghams, in blue, pink, black and white effects, the regular 45c kind, now ... 37½c

Plaid Skirting Crash that's its name. It's very popular, too, for summer skirts. The plaid effect catches the eye. Was 35c, now ... 15c

Satin Striped Challies, in all their daintiness and loveliness, are reduced, not over priced at 85c a yard, but to move them they go at ... 55c

GOLF SUITINGS.

Four pieces of Golf Suitings, in good colors, all wool; 58 inches wide and good sellers at $2.50 a yard. now ... $1.50

Eighteen pieces of Golf Suitings, 48 inches wide, with plain face and plaid back. former $1.25 kind now ... 95c
